U. S. Officials Minimize Danger Of Armed Conflict

By Stanley P. Richardson
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, March 7.—(P)—Although eyeing the German situation intently, authoritative governmental quarters today were inclined to minimize the danger of any immediate armed conflict in Europe as a result of Adolf Hitler's re-militarization of the Rhineland.

Instead, they forecast a period of diplomatic maneuvering which was considered almost certain to add new and graver complications to an already disturbed European picture.

Diplomatic officials throughout the capital shared the opinion here by Dr. Hans Luther, German ambassador to the United States, that the Nazi chancellor desired to broaden the basis for peace in Europe.

Luther, who signed the Locarno pact for Germany, told newspapermen Hitler's denunciation of that treaty was a "constructive" move toward peace. He asserted Germany would live up to the principles of Locarno, when other signatories did likewise.

State department officials, obviously pleased that the German action does not involve the United States directly in any way, withheld comment.

Brooklyn Woman's Will Is Probated

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 7.—(P)—A Brooklyn widow's will offered for probate today provided that her college-cooled daughter be disinherited if she marries other than a Protestant who smokes liquor and tobacco. A petition filed in surrogate's court valued the estate at less than $10,000.

The will, that of Mrs. Minnie Hise, who died Feb. 7, provided that Flora Leona Hise, 16, be cut off completely if she disobeys the parental injunction. The mother was an active church worker among Brooklyn Protestants.

The daughter is a student at Fruitland Institute and Junior College, Hendersonville, N. C.

Harvey Shepley was a business visitor in the city yesterday afternoon from Jacksonville.

Weather

Union Groups At Mining Camp Have Battle; Two Dead

Twenty Men Are Hurt When Lumber Huskies Fight With Guns, Clubs

Seaside, Ore., March 7.—(P)—Two men were shot to death and about 20 were hurt today in a battle between rival union groups over control of a logging camp.

James Rye, about 35, of Seaside, and William Blackwood, about 40, fell with rifle bullets through their hearts as enraged gangs of lumber huskies fought with guns, clubs, stones and heavy calked boots.

William Weedel, identified as business agent of the Portland local of the Steam and Timber Workers Union, was wounded seriously.

Scalps were split and torn by clubs and tramping, steel-shod feet.

A woman camp cook, Lila Thickett, falling into the fight with a length of gas pipe, knocked out one of two men grappling for a gun. A moment later she was struck in the neck.

The invaders left when state police appeared.

Early today approximately 150 men drove up to the camp and rushed the bunkhouse in which men, women and children were asleep. The interior was demolished and several automobiles smashed. More than 50 shots were fired.

MARCH REVENUES ARE AWAITED BY CONGRESSMEN

Will Study Figures Before Fixing Tax Rate

By Douglas B. Cornell
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, March 7.—(P)—A desire to await the March 15 yield from income taxes before deciding upon the size of the forthcoming revenue bill was expressed today by some members of congress.

They asserted privately that should improved business be reflected in a sufficiently large increase in receipts, it might be unnecessary to raise as much as the $725,000,000 contemplated for the next three years in the Roosevelt program.

Guarded hints also were dropped that the house ways and means subcommittee might try to find some way to pare down the figure mentioned by president even should income taxes be no better than estimated.

But accompanying these were strong indications that the president's main proposal for a graduated tax on undistributed corporate earnings would be accepted by the subcommittee, with modifications.

With the corporate tax revision designed to produce net additional federal income of $200,000,000 annually, a yield of $100,000,000 from a proposed windfall tax on refunded and unpaid AAA processing levies would bring in $700,000,000 in a year—only $22,500,000 short of the sum requested by Mr. Roosevelt.

Representative Vinson (D-Ky.), a subcommittee member, said he thought he could convince his colleagues that the added cost of prepayment of the bonus will not approach the $120,000,000 estimated by the president.

Surveying all factors some subcommittee members said it might be possible to get along only with the corporation and windfall levies, leaving until next year the question of dipping into other sources of revenue.

L. M. Green Asks Horner To Call Special Session

Republican House Leader Wants Honest Election Laws Passed

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 7.—(P)—While primary candidates continued their hurried speaking tours through downstate counties, Rep. L. M. Green of Rockford, Republican House leader, today asked Governor Horner to call another special legislative session on the "honest elections" issue.

In an open letter to the governor, Green urged that a fourth session be called a week after the April 14 primary in another effort to pass bills for the permanent registration of Chicago voters. The second session will resume its consideration of the relief problem then.

Of the defeat of permanent registration bills in the Senate this week, Green said:

"Honestly in elections has received a set-back, not a final defeat. Shall the bills be pressed now, or under a Republican administration which will take its seat in Illinois in January, 1937?"

Rival campaigners in most cases plan to resume their intensive stump next week, seeking to live up to downstate support before the early April shift to Cook county as the major scene of activity.

The Democratic caravan headed by Dr. Herman N. Bunsden and Mr. Horner, rival candidates for governor, will work into Central Illinois next week as they continue to hold several meetings a day.

Most of the major Republican candidates will attend a meeting of the John Edson League at Galesburg on Monday.

Len Small, again seeking the governorship, came to Springfield on private business today and said he proposed the repeal of the sales tax.

BIGGEST JOB OF NEW DEAL FAILS HOOVER CLAIMS

Taxes Of Today Only Part Of Burden He Declares

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 7.—(P)—Former President Herbert Hoover told a cheering audience of Colorado Young Republicans tonight the New Deal failed in its biggest job—"re-employing the jobless."

Drumming his finger upon a table, he emphasized that this was so despite an increased tax burden of which "the new taxes of today are but a part."

The Colorado Springs auditorium, seating 1,100, virtually was filled to capacity. As he read his address, Mr. Hoover clasped and unclasped his hands in front of him. His sallies against the Roosevelt administration brought frequent applause.

Gordon Allen of Lamar, Colo., permanent state chairman for the Young Republicans, introduced Mr. Hoover as "a real liberal, not the anarchistic, Communist, Socialistic type that we have now."

Mr. Hoover called his action a move for peace. He offered to sign a 25-year non-aggression pact with France and Belgium, with Great Britain and Italy as guarantors.

He offered friendship to Lithuania and Czechoslovakia.

He assured Poland that Germany had no designs on Poland, the Polish corridor to the Baltic Sea.

But the French and Belgian governments, alarmed, cancelled all leases for their soldiers. The British government consulted immediately with diplomats of Belgium, France, and Italy, the co-signatories of the Locarno pact.

The German government's action was delivered with the suddenness so characteristic of Hitler. He called the members of the diplomatic corps, including William E. Dodd, United States ambassador, to his chancery and delivered to them a memorandum setting forth what he intended to do.

He told the diplomats that Germany was alarmed by the recently concluded treaty of military alliance between France and Soviet Russia and stated:

"The obligations which France assumed in the new pact are not compatible with her obligations under the Rhine pact."

He referred to the agreement by which both France and Germany promised to keep their soldiers out of the Rhineland—the area into which the soldiers of the French marched today.

He said that the German government had no assurance that France would not elect a communist government and he declared that, in such case, France would be governed from Moscow and not from Paris. (France recently elected a second communist member to the senate.)

He continued: "In the interest of the primitive right of a nation to secure her own borders and to safeguard her possibilities of defense, the German government therefore, beginning today, restored the full, unmitigated sovereignty of the Reich in the demilitarized zone of the Rhineland."

Colonel Knox, Chicago newspaper publisher and co-publisher of the United-Leader at Manchester, where he maintains a home, is the first choice of a majority of the aspirants for places on the Republican delegation, although none is officially pledged to him.

Governor Al Landon of Kansas is the unofficial second choice of several.

President Roosevelt has the pledged support of all but a scattered few on the Democratic ballot and is assured of a majority of the delegation, regardless of who the winners may be in Tuesday's contests.

New Hampshire law permits, but does not require, candidates to pledge themselves to anyone whom they favor for the presidential nomination.

Eleven delegates, seven at-large and two from each of the two congressional districts, will represent the state at the Republican convention at Cleveland.

Among the leading candidates for delegate-at-large on the Republican ballot are former United States Senator George H. Moses, Governor H. Styles, Bridgeport, former Governor Huntley N. Spaulding and U. S. Representative Charles W. Tobey.

German Troops March Into Rhineland as Adolf Hitler Dissolves The Reichstag

By Louis P. Lochner Copyright, 1936, The Associated Press Berlin, March 7.—Germany re-established the "Watch On The Rhine" today.

By command of Reichsfuehrer Hitler, her troops crossed the famous Little River, regiment by regiment, to take up the posts once held by the kaisers' armies on the frontier of France.

Hitler called the action a precaution against communism and France's "iron ring around the reich." It smashed the Locarno pact and the remnants of the military clauses of the Versailles treaty.

Der Fuehrer declared that Germany, reborn as a world power, was ready to reenter the League of Nations, but as a comrade rather than as a conquered nation.

Then, in an effort to prove that his act was the will of the German people, he dissolved the nation's parliament, the Reichstag, and ordered elections for March 29. It is the composition of the Reichstag which determines the government of Germany.

Hitler called his action a move for peace. He offered to sign a 25-year non-aggression pact with France and Belgium, with Great Britain and Italy as guarantors.

He offered friendship to Lithuania and Czechoslovakia.

He assured Poland that Germany had no designs on Pomerania, the Polish corridor to the Baltic Sea.

"But the French and Belgian governments, alarmed, cancelled all leaves for their soldiers. The British government consulted immediately with diplomats of Belgium, France, and Italy, the co-signatories of the Locarno pact.

The German government's action was delivered with the suddenness so characteristic of Hitler. He called the members of the diplomatic corps, including William E. Dodd, United States ambassador, to his chancellery and delivered to them a memorandum setting forth what he intended to do.

He told the diplomats that Germany was alarmed by the recently concluded treaty of military alliance between France and Soviet Russia and stated:

"The obligations which France assumed in the new pact are not compatible with her obligations under the Rhine act."

He referred to the agreement by which both France and Germany promised to keep their soldiers out of the Rhineland—the area into which the soldiers of the Reich marched today.

He said that the German government would not accept a communist government, and he declared that, in such case, France would be governed from Moscow and not from Paris. (France recently elected a second communist member to the senate.)

He continued: "In the interest of the primitive right of a nation to secure her own borders and to safeguard her possibilities of defense, the German government therefore, beginning tomorrow, restored the full, unmitigated sovereignty of the Reich in the demilitarized zone of the Rhineland."

FARMERS END MEETING ON NEW AG PLAN

Sec. Wallace Says Program Will Be Carried Out

Chicago, March 7.—(P)—Farm leaders of the mid-west went back home tonight to put the new deal's new agricultural program into operation after hearing Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace promise it would be carried out in strict accord with their suggestions.

After two and a half days of wrestling with details, they approved a set of corn belt regulations which Wallace said would be "sufficiently like" his department's final draft that farmers could proceed with their 1936 planning on that basis.

While putting the finishing touches on a 27-page mimeographed report of how they think the new $470,000,000 soil conservation act would best work, the farmers were warned by Wallace that they would return "to the hell of 1932 in two years" if they "permitted" repeal of the new farm law.

The soil conservation act is "fundamentally" better than the outlawed AAA, and seems impervious to attack from the supreme court, the farm secretary asserted, but he anticipated it might be opposed "in a few years" as an emergency measure.

"Hold on to this act until the tariff is taken away from the 'big boys' and the corporate form of organization is taken away from the 'big boys,'" he urged the 300 men who filled the ballroom of a downtown (The Stevens) hotel.

"We are not faced with this situation in this particular year, but look ahead, a year, two or three years hence, when the question is raised as to whether this is an emergency act or a sound constructive measure."

"We believe this is an enduring act—the basis for putting a more constructive foundation under the civilization of a great nation than has ever been done before in history."

"Don't let them take this act, or the money necessary to run it, away from us. Don't let them do it. We're serious about this. Fifty years is not long in the life of the nation, yet in fifty years, at the rate we have been going (in soil depletion), 50,000,000 of plowed acres would have disappeared."

Brooklyn Woman's Will Is Probated

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 7.—(P)—A Brooklyn widow's will offered for probate today provided that her college co-ed daughter be disinherited if she marries other than a Protestant who shuns liquor and tobacco. A petition filed in surrogate's court valued the estate at less than $16,000.

The bill, that of Mrs. Minnie Hice Baxter, who died Feb. 7, provided that Flora Leonore Baxter, 16, be cut off completely if she disobeys the parental injunction. The mother was an active church worker among Brooklyn Presbyterians.

The daughter is a student at Fruitland Institute and Junior College, Hendersonville, N. C.

Harvey Shepley was a business visitor to the city yesterday afternoon from Jacksonville.

State Canvassing Board Criticised By Gov. Horner

Declares He Was Never Notified That Meeting Would Be Held

Greenville, Ill., March 7.—(P)—Gov. Henry Horner today criticized the Illinois State Canvassing Board's recent rejection of the petition of Walter Nesbit, Belleville aspirant for Democratic state central committee man.

The governor, stumping the state in a pre-primary fight for renomination, denounced Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes and State Auditor Edward J. Barrett, members of the canvassing board, and declared that although he himself was a member of the board he was not notified of the meeting.

He asserted rejection of Nesbit's petition denied Nesbit the right to run for office "which right and privilege any qualified voter has."

Calling upon his opponent for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Dr. Herman N. Bunden, to announce his platform, Gov. Horner remarked, "Mayor Kelly of Chicago has not been home from his vacation long enough to have time to prepare Dr. Bunden's platform for him."

The governor pointed to his budget balancing record in Illinois and added:

"Because Gov. Landon of Kansas has balanced the budget he wants to be president. Balancing the budget is just a plain business obligation on the part of the governor to the people."

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS MEETING LAST NIGHT AT JEFFERSON SCHOOL

Another large audience attended the Neighborhood Gathering in the Jefferson school last night, greatly enjoying the program provided by the Misses Viola Mae Ledford and Winona Rawlings and Mr. Robert Wilson. Miss Ledford sang "Moon Over Miami" and "Rural Rhythm," and as an encore, "No, No, a Thousand Times No." Miss Rawlings accompanied on the piano. Mr. Wilson entertained with a number of French harp selections, including "Those St. Louis Blues" and "The Locomotive."

The movies for the evening were entitled "Power" and "Mountaineering Memories."

Next week the Odd Fellows Male Quartet will be present to entertain as will also Amor Viera and his orchestra.

Following the program of the Neighborhood Gathering the young people spent an hour in games and entertainment.

These meetings are under the direction of the Y.M.C.A. and sponsored by the Jacksonville Rotary club.

Musical reading—Velma Duvendack. Piano duet—Mardell and Lorains Brockhouse.

Piano solo—George Bobbitt.

Song—"We Shall See the King Some Day."

Benediction.

New Hampshire To Select Delegates To Conventions Soon

President Roosevelt And Colonel Frank Knox Favorites

Concord, N. H., March 7.—(P)—New Hampshire, first state to elect delegates to the 1936 national political conventions, will make its selections next Tuesday with President Roosevelt and Colonel Frank Knox favored for the presidential nominations by a majority of the Democratic and Republican candidates.

Colonel Knox, Chicago newspaper publisher and co-publisher of the United-Leader at Manchester, where he maintains a home, is the first choice of a majority of the aspirants for places on the Republican delegation, although none is officially pledged to him.

Governor Al Landon of Kansas is the unofficial second choice of several.

President Roosevelt has the pledged support of all but a scattered few on the Democratic ballot and is assured of a majority of the delegation, regardless of who the winners may be in Tuesday's contests.

New Hampshire law permits, but does not require, candidates to pledge themselves to anyone whom they favor for the presidential nomination.

Eleven delegates, seven at-large and two from each of the two congressional districts, will represent the state at the Republican convention at Cleveland.

Among the leading candidates for delegate-at-large on the Republican ballot are former United States Senator George H. Moses, Governor H. Styles, Bridgeport, former Governor Huntley N. Spaulding and U. S. Representative Charles W. Tobey.

Two Year Old Baby Has Narrow Escape

Washington, March 7.—(P)—Jimmy Seis, 2½ years old, had two small cuts on his head and a puffed cheek today after a locomotive struck him and eight freight cars passed over his inert figure.

He strayed into the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yards and was struck by the train, throwing him between the rails. Unconscious, he lay still as the cars ran over him.

Jimmy's mother had come out to look for him when a trainman brought the unconscious, blood-covered lad to her. He was rushed to the hospital, to all appearances near death, but when the blood was washed from his head, the two cuts and the bruised cheek were found to be the extent of his injuries.

SUFFERS STROKE

Fairfield, Ill., March 7.—(P)—Mrs. Mary Alice Crews, 88 years old, a sister of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, suffered a paralytic stroke at her home here today. Physicians said her condition was critical.

Strikers Battle Police At Akron 2 Officers Hurt

Striking Rubber Workers Use Force To Prevent Clearing Of Streets

Akron, O., March 7.—(P)—Strikers used force today to prevent police from clearing streets near the Good-year Tire & Rubber company of picket shacks resulting in a clash that caused tense anxiety.

More than 16,000 are idle in four major labor disputes.

Two officers suffered slight injuries as strikers and sympathizers overwhelmed 75 city policemen by force of numbers, causing them to retreat after removing four of the pickets' non-descript shacks.

"It means we've got to go in there with drawn guns," declared Police Captain Sam Williams, after Mayor Lee D. Schroy repeated his order to tear down the haphazard structures, saying, "this is defiance of law and order." Williams said: "There are too many of them for us to handle with clubs."

Police Chief Frank Boss said no further attempt would be made immediately to execute the order.

As a Producers' milk blockade stopped 85 per cent of the city's consumer deliveries for the second day, J. J. Lawson, an independent distributor, complained to Prosecutor Herman E. Werner against threats he claimed "hoodlums" made against his trucks.

BATES NEW BERLIN MISSIONARY GROUP HAS NEW OFFICERS

New Berlin, March 7.—The Bates-New Berlin Missionary society was entertained Thursday at the home of Mrs. James Breeding in an all day meeting with a pot luck dinner at noon. Mrs. John Hensley had charge of the program, the subject being "The American Negro." Mrs. Howard Perry gave a book review on the subject.

The society elected the following officers for the coming year:

President—Mrs. Ernest King
Vice President—Mrs. Russell Saul
Treasurer—Mrs. W. G. Coons
Secretary—Mrs. Earl Coulter
Oliver Yates returned this week from a trip to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ryan and her mother, Mrs. Kumble, moved this week to Franklin. Louis Roesch and family moved into the property vacated by them, and Joe Reiser moved to the Roesch property. The moving cycle was continued when Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dunlap became occupants of the home vacated by the Reiser family.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church cleared $33 by serving lunch at the Goff sale.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid society held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. John Horn. The day was spent in quilting and a pot luck dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour.

Frank Lovell held a sale of household goods at his home here today. Mr. and Mrs. Lovell with their son, Wayne and wife, expect to leave soon for California to make their home.

RELIEF CLIENT GIVES CITY ELECTRIC PLANT

Manning, N. D., March 7.—(P)—A new electric light plant is being installed in the Dunn county court house—the gift of a relief client.

The electric plant at the county building had worn out and county commissioners were contemplating the expense of replacement when J. F. Weinrich of Halliday offered them his.

Weinrich, whose plant had provided the city of Halliday with electricity until the franchise was given to another company, donated the equipment, valued at $2,000.

Nearly 80 years old, Weinrich had been receiving aid from the county for three or four years and offered his plant as a gift in appreciation.

T. F. HOWARD DIES

Tuscola, Ill., March 7.—(P)—Theodore F. Howard, former Douglas county treasurer and a prominent Central Illinois Republican, died today following a long illness.

He was born in Edgar county on Dec. 21, 1858, and came to Douglas county in 1874. The widow and ten grown children survive.

The funeral will be held Monday with burial in an Arcolia cemetery.

POSTPONE MEETING

Mrs. Charles Bealmeier was to have entertained the Sinclair Woman's club March 11, but the meeting has been postponed to March 25.

New York Service Strike Spreads; Hotels Hit Hard

Usual Weekend Reservations Changes To General Exodus

New York, March 7.—(P)—Timing their drive to hit the week-end transient business, building service strikers tonight strove to disrupt Gotham's hotel and theatrical centers.

By ordering walkouts at half a hundred hotels they created a situation that was called serious, as it affected week-end receipts.

At the same time the striking elevator operators, porters and other building workers tightened their picket lines at hold-out apartment houses. A definite falling of week-end reservations was reported by theaters and night clubs.

While most managers discounted the effect of the hotel walkout, one official said that the usual week-end influx of guests had changed to a general exodus.

Chris Houlthan, head of the union's hotel division, said 45 members of the United Mine Workers of America, here to negotiate a new anthracite coal contract, had shifted their quarters from the Hotel Commodore to another hostelry "approved by the union."

Brooklyn and Queens building owners awaited week-end developments, wondering whether threats to carry the strike into those boroughs would materialize.

Meanwhile the really advisory board, chief opponent of the Building Service Employees' Union, assisted Mayor F. H. LaGuardia for his stand that the union had submitted a "reasonable" offer of arbitration.

Dorothy Lee Weds A. Gordon Atwater

Crown Point, Ind., March 7.—(P)—Dorothy Lee, 25-year-old motion picture actress, was married here today to A. Gordon Atwater, 28, of Chicago, by Justice of the Peace Harvey Minas.

Atwater is assistant to the vice president in charge of sales and promotion for the William Wrigley Jr. Company, chewing gum manufacturers. His sister, Helen, is the wife of Philip K. Wrigley, head of the company and owner of the Chicago Cubs.

The actress and Marshall D. Duffield, former star halfback at the University of California, were divorced at Reno last November. Atwater and the former Betty Ann Bergmann were divorced last Feb. 11.

STOP LAUGHING

Weston, W. Va., March 7.—(P)—Teresa Hawkins' laughter which sapped her vitality for ten days stopped today.

Miss Jessie O'Curran, superintendent of nurses at the Weston State hospital, announced the 18 year old girl awakened in "very satisfactory condition" after an abdominal operation and a night of rest.

The nurse said Teresa was having no more of the spells of laughing and giggling which seized her February 26.

THIEVES GIVEN 15 LASHES

Wilmington, Del., March 7.—(P)—Four chicken thieves received 15 lashes each at the New Castle county workhouse today. Warden Elwood H. Wilson wielded the whip.

The men, all negroes, pleaded guilty to looting the chicken house of John L. Wright, near Clayton.

European Situation at a Glance by The Associated Press

By the Associated Press
Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's Nazi Legions marched into the "demilitarized" Rhineland today.

France ordered all its northeast frontiers garrisoned to full strength immediately.

In a two-hour speech in the Reichstag Hitler denounced the Locarno pact.

Italy's Premier Mussolini agreed to discuss Ethiopian peace with the League of Nations—with reservations.

Hitler called a plebiscite for March 29th.

All leaves of soldiers were cancelled in France and Belgium. Foreign Minister Flaminio Piccoli, termed Hitler's move "a hostile act."

The British government announced a cabinet meeting Monday would discuss the situation.

Italian officials agreed that no action was the best action on Hitler's move.

Hitler declared the signed Franco-Russian mutual assistance pact had already wrecked the Locarno treaty.

Germany, he said, was ready to rejoin the league, but only as an equal.

Last Subscribers Ring Off; Phone Company Folds Up

Manager Doesn't Know Names Of The President Or Directors

Ottawa, O., March 7.—(P)—Down to its last two subscribers—and both of them ringing off April 1—The Putnam County Telephone Company "folded" today.

Manager John L. Eden asked the Public Utilities Commission for permission to abandon the 32-year-old business, whose exchange has not handled a call for a month.

"You can't make money with only two subscribers," he said, "and when you lose both of them it's time to quit."

Eden said he acted on his own authority in seeking to quit formally a business that actually hasn't existed for a month because he doesn't know even the names of the president and directors of the firm.

"I guess they just left me to run things," he added.

Eden blamed the depression and competition of a rival firm, the Farmers' Mutual Telephone Company, for collapse of the county service which boasted 450 subscribers at its peak 10 years ago in this village of 2,100.

NITRO-GLYCERINE BOMB MAILED TO CHANCELLOR

Syracuse, N. Y., March 7.—(P)—A package addressed to Chancellor Charles Wesley Flint of Syracuse University, containing a nitro-glycerine bomb and an ace of spades from a deck of playing cards, was discovered in the Syracuse postoffice this afternoon. No clues as to the sender were found immediately by post-office inspectors.

Chancellor Flint, to whose Syracuse home the package was addressed, and Mrs. Flint are on a vacation trip to Miami, Fla. Postoffice officials said that if the bomb had not been delivered to the chancellor's office on Monday morning.

UNION TO MEET

The Literary Union will meet Monday evening at the home of Dr. C. P. McClelland, 339 E. State. Dr. McClelland will also lead the discussion, "The Reeducation of Sherwood Eddy," the city yesterday.

Grandfather Seeks Custody Of Fifteen Year Old Grandson

George W. Borg, Inventor Files Writ Of Habeas Corpus

Chicago, March 7.—(P)—George W. Borg, wealthy manufacturer and inventor, sought a writ of habeas corpus in circuit court today to obtain custody of his 15-month-old grandson, George W. Borg II.

The petition for the writ alleged Borg's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Anita Borg, 19, was "unfit" to care for the baby, and that in a county court hearing at Elkhorn, Wis., last June 19 Borg was appointed guardian for him.

Until last Wednesday, the petition alleged, Mrs. Borg resided with her husband, Marshall, 21, at the Borg home at Lake Delavan, Wis., but that on that date she left and came to Chicago with her son.

Attorney Samuel A. Rinella, representing Mrs. Borg at a brief hearing today, stated she was "in hiding" here, but that she would appear with the baby when the hearing was resumed before Judge Michael Peimberg Monday.

Rinella stated his client planned to file a suit for separate maintenance. He said she and Borg were married here Jan. 24, 1934, after a courtship that began at Colorado Springs.

The elder Borg, who was present in court today, explained his motive in seeking custody of the child was to insure his welfare.

Paying Guest At County Poorhouse

New Lexington, O., March 7.—(P)—A paying guest at Perry county's poor house, his guardian said today, has balanced his books for 1935, and found a $748 profit.

Six years ago when investigators removed Leonard Glidden, a farmer, to the county home after the death of his wife, they found $4,000 hoarded away in his home, mostly crumpled bank notes stuffed in old tin cans.

Glidden became a ward of the home, and his money was inventoried.

Glidden pays the Perry county poor house a dollar a day for living expenses and spends a little more for incidentals. He rejects all offers to provide him with a different home.

Readings And Music Given At Session This Week: Other News Notes

Roodhouse, Illinois, March 7.—The Woman's Club met Thursday in the club room with Mesdames G. E. Braznell, Will Johnston, C. F. Moulton and Cal Spencer as hostesses. In the absence of the president, the chair was filled by Mrs. Harvey Hull.

The following program was given: Paper on Interior Decorating by Miss Verl Schumberg; Reading—Courtship of Larry-O-Dee, by Mrs. Marjorie Powers; vocal numbers—Kilbuck and Song of the Soul, by Mrs. Joe Weinand, with Mrs. Lee Hopkins at the piano. Federation news for January and February was read by the chairman Mrs. Hull and secretary, Mrs. Margaret Sneed.

There were 45 members present and the following guests, Mrs. Frank Russell of Oakland, California, Mrs. Harry Gilmore, Mrs. Harold Ransom, and Mrs. Irene Franklin. The next meeting will be March 18th.

A special meeting of Pythian Sisters will be held next Tuesday, March 10, at 7:30 p.m. District Deputy Lucile Davenport makes her official visit.

Mrs. W. R. Johnson vacated the Baptist parsonage this week and has stored her household goods in Jacksonville. She is now occupying a room at the Dr. H. W. Smith home.

Rev. R. E. Best, the Baptist pastor, his mother Mrs. Jessie Best and his grandmother Mrs. Myra Bruce arrived from Nekoma and moved into the parsonage.

Conductor and Mrs. A. B. Crain have moved back to Roodhouse from Bloomington where they have spent the winter, and are occupying the second floor in the T. F. Shuman apartment building on West Palm street.

Baptist Class Meets
The Amos Class of the First Baptist church met in the church parlors with a pot-luck dinner served at noon. There were 27 members and 2 guests present. The guests were Mesdames, Walker and Alberts, who later joined the class. After dinner a business session was conducted at which time each member donated to the class $1, telling in her own way how she had earned the dollar. The next meeting will be the first Tuesday in April.

The Home-Makers club met Thursday with Mrs. Russell Hutton with a pot-luck dinner served. The day was spent with needle-work. Those attending were, Misses Dorcas Allen, Myra Dean, Pauline Garner, Virginia Walton, Mesdames, Elah Walton, Claude Brickey, Eugene Rawlins, Jas. Bartlett, J. L. Marsh, Albert Dean, Albert McCaonathy, E. H. Lee, and Mr. Jas. Bartlett.

Truman Oxley of Woodson was in the city yesterday.

Bird Conservation

The protection of bird life is most important for the future of American agriculture. It is hoped that the bird-house building contest being started in this community will result in the construction and placing of more nesting places for birds, which will give them better protection from cats, hawks, and other perpetrators of violence against them.

Government experts on bird life have estimated the number of insects consumed by the birds. A cuckoo will eat 50 to 400 caterpillars a day. A chickadee will consume 200 to 300 insects daily. It is figured that the number of land birds in the Mississippi valley average five to the acre. In Illinois alone these birds will eat 35,000 to 40,000 bushels of insects a day during the months of May, June, July, August and September.

If all these insects were left to multiply, they would in a short time cover the land as a scourge, destroy all vegetation and reduce the people to starvation and death. It is therefore highly important to protect the birds, and this can be done by affording them safe nesting quarters. The ordinary house cat, if allowed to run at large at night, will destroy fifty birds in a season. Keep the cat shut up at night, and save the birds.

Europe Gets a Jolt

Her Hitler has sent his troops across the Rhine into the zone demilitarized under the Versailles treaty. Europe gasps, gulps and wonders what will happen next. Perhaps there isn't much to worry about. Tearing down the Versailles treaty is not a new process; it has been in progress for some time.

European conditions have outgrown the treaty, which was favorable to France, but highly unfavorable to the middle European powers. Germany has recovered from her defeat and is again striving to become a world power. Hitler feels that his nation is now strong enough to defy the various pacts and treaties with which the Allies sought at the close of the war to chain down the "mad bull of Europe."

Thinking people in all nations have known for years that the Versailles treaty and the Locarno pact, which put restrictions on German expansion, would have to go; they are going fast. The League of Nations, which has received so many solar plexus blows that it is "punch-drunk," now proposes to formulate a new world treaty to replace the pacts Germany, Italy and Japan have kicked into the discard.

That is about the wisest thing the League has done for some time. What Europe needs is a mutual peace agreement based on modern conditions, with due recognition given the changes that have taken place. Otherwise there may be another war of even greater proportions than the last one. It is not safe to sit on the valve of a boiler that is under full steam. Better open the valve and ease the pressure.

Nothing Is Impossible

Ivan Pavlov, the great Russian scientist who changed the story of physiology, is dead, but his philosophy and memorable contributions live on. Said the eminent Pavlov at one time: "The achievements of science in the past century give us the right to affirm that absolutely nothing may be considered impossible."

That is, the trend of human evolution is bound up in man's ability to unfold the secrets of nature, and as these secrets are laid bare the human race simultaneously moves upward.

Equally significant is it that nature seems to have reserved a few great exploratory minds for each generation. There will be other Pavlovs as there have been Faradays, Newtons and Pasteurs. After all, it is a mighty encouraging scheme of things isn't it?

Flood Control

It seems there is one point on which former President Herbert Hoover and President F. D. Roosevelt fully agree—the necessity for flood control along the Mississippi and its tributaries. Mr. Hoover inaugurated a ten-year program to prevent floods in the "Father of Waters" basin. Mr. Roosevelt has pushed the program so vigorously that it may be completed in eight years. The creation of flood outlets for the river and its many feeder streams is one feature of the program. Huge reservoirs where the water may back up in times of stress will be forced. Levees will be strengthened. The principal purpose of the plan is to protect the rich alluvial lands which have been reclaimed and are under cultivation.

The flooding of farm lands along the rivers is almost an annual spring event. Not many years do the farmers escape the losses due to floods. They have to make a single good crop pay for many failures. The flood control program will increase the value of these lands and also the prosperity of thousands of farmers who have risked all to reap the rich harvest from the rich soil of the bottoms.

America's First Free Port

On Staten Island, New York, soon will be established the first free port zone in the United States, recently authorized by Secretary Roper. In view of the success of such zones in other countries, it is a development of considerable interest and of possibly great importance.

A free port is, essentially, a fenced and guarded district into which goods may be brought from abroad without payment of customs duty. Such an area is used for processing of raw materials and for trans-shipment operations, to prepare the goods for sale in another country or in the country where the free port is situated. The New York zone, it is expected, will be used largely for processing of goods for Latin America, and for display of goods intended for sale in this country. The benefits lie in the additional employment provided for American labor, more business for American shipping and the stimulus to industry provided by this means of escaping the tariff on goods intended for re-export. Tariffs would be collected, of course, on any goods sent into the United States from the free zone.

The development of many a European port city is ascribable directly to such an arrangement. Copenhagen is a trade center of the Baltic because of its free port. The growth of Hamburg is largely attributed to the shipments attracted by this facility. Other foreign free ports are Danzig, Bremen, Emden, Stettin, Hongkong and Singapore. At a time when this country is seeking methods of increasing foreign trade without competing with domestic industry, the free-port experiment is well worth trying. It may become one of economic importance. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Consider the Children

The appalling growth of the delinquent child problem has stirred Michigan to action. Every year from 5000 to 6000 children face municipal courts in that state, costing the people almost $1,000,000 to handle the cases—and foreshadowing a tragic future crime bill.

Now there is, under consideration, a "Michigan plan" for uniting churches, courts, schools, police, civic leaders and the state government in a sustained, co-operative drive to keep youth on the right track.

The Michigan experiment will be watched intently by the nation. There is no community without the delinquency problem, intensified a great deal by the depression. Perhaps the Michigan plan is not the answer, but it is significant because it recognizes the need for action.

Earning and Learning

At last we have a practical condemnation of the "work your way through college" theory. Dr. James Bryant Conant, Harvard president, contends that the plan is more destructive than productive. He recommends creation of more scholarships so that youths may acquire college training without "either privation or luxury."

"Trying to earn a living while you are trying to study results only in distraction," Dr. Conant argues. And his point is well taken. Social organizations could do no better than offer scholarships as part of their public activities.

Nevertheless, if there are no scholarships available, the "work your way" plan is highly preferable to no college at all.

MRS. JENNIE FICKES, FORMERLY OF CITY, SUMMONED BY DEATH

Mrs. W. S. Ehle of 703 South Main street, received a message Friday telling of the death of Mrs. Jennie Fickes, a former Jacksonville resident, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. May Elcher, in Marengo, Ill. Mrs. Fickes was 87 years old.

The funeral will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Catholic church in Marengo, Ill., and burial will be made there.

Mrs. Fickes had many friends in Jacksonville. She left this city about 20 years ago.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Some Lavish Hopes Will Be Pinned on New Tax Plan ... It's the Idea of Treasury's Mr. Oliphant ... What! You Don't Know What Ecology Means? Well, Neither Do Some of Our Congressmen.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Mr. Roosevelt soaks the rich and the rich soak Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Roosevelt soaks the rich again and if they don't look out there will be no one left to support the American Liberty League.

The new tax plan drips with New Deal philosophy. If Congress accepts it, the New Deal will have inched along a bit farther in sharing industrial wealth and restoring mass purchasing power.

Proposal to tax corporation profits by levying on undivided surpluses and dividends on a get-on-going-or-coming scheme was substituted at the last moment for an earlier decision by Roosevelt to ask Congress for an inheritance tax and a larger assessment against higher bracket incomes.

The more Roosevelt studied his tax problem, the more this relatively radical idea appealed to him. Since everything that happens in Washington this year has a political aspect, it is better than a good guess that the president was especially impressed with the desirability of appealing to consumers, who are fed up with processing taxes on food and will now benefit by a great reduction in such taxes, and to small stockholders, who presumably will benefit from more and bigger dividends stimulated by the surplus tax.

Treasury Aide Sells Idea

There is still plenty of question here, however, whether the tax will work, well whether it will work fairly, and whether it will be so framed as to be proof against evasion.

The man who sold this drastic revision of tax machinery to Roosevelt and to Secretary Morgenthau was Mr. Herman Oliphant, general counsel for the Treasury.

Mr. Morgenthau thinks Mr. Oliphant, once a law professor at Johns Hopkins and later legal adviser to FCA under Morgenthau, is a genius. That partly explains why the change around here isn't less restrained. The Treasury has a Washington reputation for a lack of expert technical advisers.

What's Claimed for It

Here are the various claims made for the plan:

The rich will pay more taxes. Well-to-do stockholders will pay more, too, but will receive more money in dividends. Purchasing power will expand because dividend recipients will spend more because consumers will be able to buy more farm products, and because some of the distributed profits may go into wages.

The holding company idea will be discouraged, because undivided surpluses won't be used to acquire subsidiaries or buy stock in other corporations—another sock at "bigness" (Page Justice Brandeis and Dr. Frankfurter).

Excess productive capacity will be discouraged, because corporations won't be so likely to expand plant unless there's pressing demand for it. Corporations won't have large surpluses to toss into the stock market and encourage dangerous booms.

Ecology? Oh, Sure!

As an item of further interest to taxpayers, let us take an excerpt from House debate on the Department of Agriculture appropriation bill: Mr. Cannon of Missouri, interrupting Mr. Greener of Wyoming: The amendment the gentleman rose to support is to establish certain ecological stations. Nothing the gentleman has said applies to ecological stations and I wonder if the gentleman knows what an ecological station is.

Mr. Greener: The thing in which we are interested in the state of Wyoming is co-operation.

Mr. Cannon: Will the gentleman tell us what are ecological stations?

Mr. Greener: The situation in which we are interested in Wyoming is stations to accomplish what is provided for in the bill.

Mr. Cannon: I am asking the gentleman to talk on the amendment. Mr. Greener: I refuse to yield further to the gentleman. I am telling the gentleman about the conditions we have in our state and in the west.

They Know Their Subject

Cannon and Robertson of Virginia debate the word's meaning and Robertson thinks it means study of the life habits of birds and animals and Cannon says he doesn't know the meaning at all. (The dictionary says ecology means "the branch of biology which deals with the relations between organisms and their environment," in case that's any help.)

Mr. Ekwall of Oregon: Whether it means one thing or another, the people of my state, who have expressed themselves, are in favor of this increase. Mr. Cannon, addressing the House: Some fellow back home sends you a telegram and you rush in here and say, "If I do not know what it is all about, but it is to spend money and I am in favor of spending it." At least know what an ecological station is before you come in here and ask for one!

My Dear Friends:

Central Christian church presents earnest and sincere gratitude for the excellent display advertisement portraying the influence and power of the church. This came as a very pleasant surprise and will accomplish much in making the church in this city a more vital force in our community life. Religion is the conscious or unconscious need of all human beings; and while the church may be imperfect it remains the only medium for the successful transmission to the world of the actual teaching and spirit of the Christ.

We thank you heartily for this expression of interest and goodwill and through you we express our gratitude to those business and professional men and women who have made this presentation possible.

Very truly yours,

Bird Conservation

The protection of bird life is most important for the future of American agriculture. It is hoped that the bird-house building contest being started in this community will result in the construction and placing of more nesting places for birds, which will give them better protection from cats, hawks, and other perpetrators of violence against them.

Government experts on bird life have estimated the number of insects consumed by the birds. A cuckoo will eat 50 to 400 caterpillars a day. A chickadee will consume 200 to 500 insects daily. It is figured that the number of land birds in the Mississippi valley average five to the acre. In Illinois alone these birds will eat 35,000 to 40,000 bushels of insects a day during the months of May, June, July, August and September.

If all these insects were left to multiply, they would in a short time cover the land as a scourge, destroy all vegetation and reduce the people to starvation and death. It is therefore highly important to protect the birds, and this can be done by affording them safe nesting quarters. The ordinary house cat, if allowed to run at large at night, will destroy fifty birds in a season. Keep the cat shut up at night, and save the birds.

Europe Gets a Jolt

Herr Hitler has sent his troops across the Rhine into the zone demilitarized under the Versailles treaty. Europe gasps, gulps and wonders what will happen next. Perhaps there isn't much to worry about. Tearing down the Versailles treaty is not a new project; it has been in progress for sometime.

European conditions have outgrown the treaty, which was favorable to France, but highly unfavorable to the middle European powers. Germany has recovered from her defeat and is again striving to become a world power. Hitler feels that his nation is now strong enough to defy the various pacts and treaties with which the Allies sought at the close of the war to chain down the "mad bull of Europe."

Thinking people in all nations have known for years that the Versailles treaty and the Locarno pact, which put restrictions on German expansion, would have to go; they are going fast. The League of Nations, which has received so many solar plexus blows that it is "punch-drunk" now proposes to formulate a new world treaty to replace the pacts Germany, Italy and Japan have kicked into the discard.

That is about the wisest thing the League has done for sometime. What Europe needs is a mutual peace agreement based on modern conditions, with due recognition given the changes that have taken place. Otherwise there may be another war of even greater proportions than the last one. It is not safe to sit on the valve of a boiler that is under full steam. Better open the valve and ease the pressure.

Nothing Is Impossible

Ivan Pavlov, the great Russian scientist who changed the story of physiology, is dead, but his philosophy and memorable contributions live on. Said the eminent Pavlov at one time: "The achievements of science in the past century give us the right to affirm that absolutely nothing may be considered impossible."

That is, the trend of human evolution is bound up in man's ability to unfold the secrets of nature, and as these secrets are laid bare the human race simultaneously moves upward.

Equally significant is it that nature seems to have reserved a few great exploratory minds for each generation. There will be other Pavlovs as there have been Faradays, Newtons and Pasteurs. After all, it is a mighty encouraging scheme of things isn't it?

Flood Control

It seems there is one point on which former President Herbert Hoover and President F. D. Roosevelt fully agree—the necessity for flood control along the Mississippi and its tributaries. Mr. Hoover inaugurated a ten-year program to prevent floods in the "Father of Waters" basin. Mr. Roosevelt has pushed the program so vigorously that it may be completed in eight years. The creation of flood outlets for the river and its many feeder streams is one feature of the program. Huge reservoirs where the water may back up in time of stress will be forced. Levees will be strengthened. The principal purpose of the plan is to protect the rich alluvial lands which have been reclaimed and are under cultivation.

The flooding of farm lands along the rivers is almost an annual spring event. Not many years do the farmers escape the losses due to floods. They have to make a single good crop year for many failures. The flood control program will increase the value of these lands and also the prosperity of thousands of farmers who have risked all to reap the rich harvest from the rich soil of the bottoms.

America's First Free Port

On Staten Island, New York, soon will be established the first free port zone in the United States, recently authorized by Secretary Roper. In view of the success of such zones in other countries, it is a development of considerable interest and of possibly great importance.

A free port is, essentially, a fenced and guarded district into which goods may be brought from abroad without payment of customs duty. Such an area is used for processing of raw materials and for trans-shipment operations, to prepare the goods for sale in another country or in the country where the free port is situated. The New York zone, it is expected, will be used largely for processing of goods for Latin America, and for display of goods intended for sale in this country. The benefits lie in the additional employment provided for American labor, more business for American shipping and the stimulus to industry provided by this means of escaping the tariff on goods intended for re-export. Tariffs would be collected, of course, on any goods sent into the United States from the free zone.

The development of many a European port city is ascribable directly to such an arrangement. Copenhagen is a trade center of the Baltic because of its free port. The growth of Hamburg is largely attributed to the shipments attracted by this facility. Other foreign free ports are Danzig, Bremen, Emden, Stettin, Hongkong and Singapore. At a time when this country is seeking methods of increasing foreign trade without competing with domestic industry, the free-port experiment is well worth trying. It sufficiently large trade is attracted, it may become of economic importance. —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Consider the Children

The appalling growth of the delinquent child problem has stirred Michigan to action. Every year from 5000 to 6000 children face municipal courts in that state, costing the people almost $1,000,000 to handle the cases—and foreshadowing a tragic future crime bill.

Now there is, under consideration, a "Michigan plan" for uniting churches, courts, schools, police, civic leaders and the state government in a sustained, co-operative drive to keep youth on the right track.

The Michigan experiment will be watched intently by the nation. There is no community without the delinquency problem, intensified a great deal by the depression. Perhaps the Michigan plan is not the answer, but it is significant because it recognizes the need for action.

Earning and Learning

At last we have a practical condemnation of the "work your way through college" theory. Dr. James Bryant Conant, Harvard president, contends that the plan is more destructive than productive. He recommends creation of more scholarships so that youths may acquire college training without either privation or luxury.

"Trying to earn a living while you are trying to study results only in distraction," Dr. Conant argues. And his point is well taken. Social organizations could do no better than offer scholarships as part of their public activities.

Nevertheless, if there are no scholarships available, the "work your way" plan is highly preferable to no college at all.

Some Lavish Hopes Will Be Pinned on New Tax Plan ... It's the Idea of Treasury's Mr. Oliphant ... What! You Don't Know What Ecology Means? Well, Neither Do Some of Our Congressmen.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—Mr. Roosevelt soaks the rich and the rich soak Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Roosevelt soaks the rich again and if they don't look out there will be no one left to support the American Liberty League.

The new tax plan drips with New Deal philosophy. If Congress accepts it, the New Deal will have included along a bit farther in sharing industrial wealth and restoring mass purchasing power.

Proposal to tax corporation profits by levying on undivided surpluses and dividends on a get-'em-going-or-coming scheme was substituted at the last moment for an earlier decision by Roosevelt to ask Congress for an inheritance tax and a larger assessment against higher bracket incomes.

The more Roosevelt studied his tax problem, the more this relatively radical idea appealed to him. Treasury Aide Sells Idea

There is still plenty of question here, however, whether the tax will work, well whether it will work fairly, and whether it will be so framed as to be proof against evasion.

The man who sold this drastic revision of tax machinery to Roosevelt and to Secretary Morgenthau was Mr. Herman Oliphant, general counsel for the Treasury.

Mr. Morgenthau thinks Mr. Oliphant, once a law professor at Johns Hopkins and later legal adviser to FCA under Morgenthau, is a genius. That partly explains why the cheers around here aren't less restrained. The Treasury has a Washington reputation for a lack of expert technical advisers.

Wouldn't You Like to Own This Home?

Residential real estate has always been considered one of the safest forms of American investments, a truth amply substantiated by the fact that today it is possible to borrow as much as 90% of the total cost of a new residence. NEW BOOK EXPLAINS ALL ABOUT PILES

A new illustrated book has just been published by the Thornton & Minor Clinic—the world's oldest institution specializing in the treatment of piles and other rectal afflictions. This book explains why rectal disorders cause such common ailments as headaches, nervousness, stomach and liver troubles, and loss of vigor. It points out the extreme danger of neglecting even a minor case of piles... shows how cancer and other incurable conditions frequently result. The mild Thornton & Minor treatment, by which more than 46,000 men and women have been restored to health during the past 57 years, and which requires no hospitalization or the use of dangerous anesthetics, is fully explained. If you are afflicted, send for a copy of this frank and informative book which will be sent you in plain wrapper absolutely free. Ashland Club Will Hold St. Patrick's Program Next Week

Monsignor Guisti Invited by Men's Club to Be Guest Speaker

Ashland—A St. Patrick's day program and banquet will be enjoyed by the Ashland Men's Community club at its next meeting, which will be held Tuesday evening, March 10, in Hex-ter's hall. An appropriate menu will be served by the ladies of the Baptist church and music during the meal will be provided by Jenkins' orchestra. A group of local musicians which has won favor with the club.

Through the efforts of the committee, Rev. D. J. Quinn, H. A. Stribling, W. P. Leahy, and Ray Logan, the following attractive program has been arranged:

Special vocal and piano numbers by Mrs. Mae Buth and Edward Buth of Springfield.

Dramatic and humorous reading by Helen Brown Leeper of Virginia.

Harmonica solos by David Fernandez of Springfield.

Whistling selections by Virgil Burge of Springfield.

Exhibition of dancing—Solo dancer, Harry Miles of Springfield. Vocal soloist, Rudy Cane of Springfield.

Dancers, Maxine Kane, Katherine Lillie, Betty DeCroix, and Marjorie Hunter, all pupils of Harry Miles.

Grand finale by entire company.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Monsignor Amos R. Guisti, J.C.D., vice-chancellor of the Springfield diocese. Monsignor Guisti's subject will be "Innocence Abroad."

With this splendid program in store, indications are for a large attendance.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

The American Legion Auxiliary held the regular meeting Wednesday afternoon in Legion hall, with Mrs. Ethel Quinley, unit president, in charge of the meeting. After the routine business a talk on "National Defense" was given by Mrs. Dollie Thompson. Mrs. Helen Douglass directed the ensemble singing. Plans were discussed for a potluck supper to be held Monday night, March 9, for members and their families. Mrs. Letha Bast was appointed unit historian.

About twenty were present and during the social hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Hazel Logan and Mrs. Josephine Lynn.

Chi Beta Society

Enjoys Rush Tea.

Mrs. W. A. Pay's home on West State street was the scene of a rush tea sponsored by the Chi Beta literary society of Illinois college Saturday afternoon. The freshmen girls were entertained at the tea of which the motif was St. Patrick's Day. This scheme was carried out in the favor of refreshments and decorations.

The guests were entertained by an interesting and delightful program as follows:

Solo on accordion—Marjorie Axe.

Vocal duet—Frances and Charlotte Brown.

Musical saw solo, accompanied by the accordion—Winona Rawlings and Marjorie Axe.

Ballet dance—Dorothy Long.

During the social hour following this tea and other refreshments were served. In keeping with the motif selected Shamrock ice cream formed a part of the refreshments. Mrs. Fay presided at the tea table.

Shamrocks as favors were given to each guest.

BUOY, OH, BUOY! THIS ONE WAS CLOSE

Some mighty fine seamanship was displayed during the 10th annual midwinter sailing regatta at Los Angeles. Owen P. Churchill's Angelita, and Pierpont Davis' Santa Maria approached one of the marker buoys prow and prow and, when the former rounded the turn, the latter's skipper had to do some tall maneuvering to avoid a collision. Here are the two at the bend, the Angelita, winner of the 8-meter class race, in front.

Urbana, Ill.—Hog prices have not had the full benefit of the direct effect of the removal of the AAA processing tax, according to Illinois Farm Economics, a monthly circular issued by the department of Agricultural economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

To date removal of the tax appears to have had more effect toward reducing prices of hog products to the consumer than toward increasing the price received by the farmer for his hogs, according to the circular.

However, hog prices benefited more than would appear from the course of prices alone, the circular continues. Had it not been for the removal of the tax the first week in January, there would probably have been a decline in hog prices, owing to the larger supply coming to market. Probably the actual amount marketed from week to week also was somewhat affected by the removal of the tax and the consequent rise in price, it is believed.

Evidence of how consumers benefited from the tax removal is seen in the fact that the value of products for each 100 pounds of hogs declined by more than $1 following the supreme court decision of January 8. Hog prices, on the other hand, rose about 50 cents a hundred pounds immediately and advanced still farther later.

Movements of prices and of receipts of hogs during the past month have confirmed the evidence previously available which indicated that the direct burden of the hog processing tax was not being borne by the packers, the circular points out. Rather it was being shifted partly to the consumers and partly to producers with the latter bearing a major portion of the direct effect of the tax.

"Insofar, of course, as the tax and the AAA program reduced the supplies of hogs coming to market, it also increased prices received by producers. Furthermore, it should also be borne in mind that nearly all of the money collected by the hog processing tax was returned to corn and hog producers through the rental and benefit payments. Hence it can not be said that hog producers as a whole were burdened through the existence of the processing tax and the adjustment program."

GORGEOUS

That's the kind of girl Toby Ryan is.
That's the name of NEA's newest serial.

And that's the kind of serial Toby's story is—GORGEOUS!

Written by Laura Lou Brookman, "GORGEOUS" turns the candid camera on the life and loves of a photographer's model—seen from coast to coast in advertisements of soft drinks, chewing gum, washing machines, diamond rings.

"Gorgeous" is a close-up of this picturesque life—dramatic, exciting, fast-moving. In 36 installments, handsomely illustrated (by models who, in real life, earn their living as do the characters of the story).

Starting in the COURIER March 12, and the JOURNAL March 13.

HOG PRICES NOT UP THE MAXIMUM YET FROM LIFTING TAX

Urbana, Ill.—Hog prices have not had the full benefit of the direct effect of the removal of the AAA processing tax, according to Illinois Farm Economics, a monthly circular issued by the department of Agricultural economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

To date removal of the tax appears to have had more effect toward reducing prices of hog products to the consumer than toward increasing the price received by the farmer for his hogs, according to the circular.

However, hog prices benefited more than would appear from the course of prices alone, the circular continues. Had it not been for the removal of the tax the first week in January, there would probably have been a decline in hog prices, owing to the larger supply coming to market. Probably the actual amount marketed from week to week also was somewhat affected by the removal of the tax and the consequent rise in price, it is believed.

Evidence of how consumers benefited from the tax removal is seen in the fact that the value of products for each 100 pounds of hogs declined by more than $1 following the supreme court decision of January 6. Hog prices, on the other hand, rose about 50 cents a hundred pounds immediately and advanced still farther later.

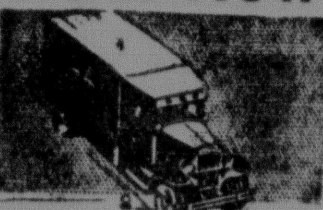

Movements of prices and of receipts of hogs during the past month have confirmed the evidence previously available which indicated that the direct burden of the hog processing tax was not being borne by the packers, the circular points out. Rather it was being shifted partly to the consumers and partly to producers with the latter bearing a major portion of the direct effect of the tax.

"Insofar, of course, as the tax and the AAA program reduced the supplies of hogs coming to market, it also increased prices received by producers. Furthermore, it should also be borne in mind that nearly all of the money collected by the hog processing tax was returned to corn and hog producers through the rental and benefit payments. Hence it can not be said that hog producers as a whole were burdened through the existence of the processing tax and the adjustment program."

GORGEOUS

That's the kind of girl Toby Ryan is.
That's the name of NEA's newest serial.

And that's the kind of serial Toby's story is—GORGEOUS!

Written by Laura Lou Brookman, "GORGEOUS" turns the candid camera on the life and loves of a photographer's model—seen from coast to coast in advertisements of soft drinks, chewing gum, washing machines, diamond rings.

"Gorgeous" is a close-up of this picturesque life—dramatic, exciting, fast-moving. In 36 installments, handsomely illustrated (by models who, in real life, earn their living as do the characters of the story).

Starting in the COURIER March 12, and the JOURNAL March 13.

Pull Over!

and get going on this new game which means a lot of fun for you and is an opportunity to win one of 82 cash prizes! The rules are very simple all you have to do is use your own good judgment to play this new

TRAFFIC SAFETY GAME

STARTING TUESDAY, MARCH 10th in the
Jacksonville Journal and Courier

Help yourself and others to save lives . . . save trouble, expense, fines and the remorse and grief that results from most traffic accidents—Learn safe rules and follow them. Win your share of the CASH AWARDS . . . Here's How!

RULES OF THE CONTEST

1—Each day, excepting Sunday and Monday, beginning Tuesday, March 10th, and ending Saturday, May 16th, the Jacksonville Journal and Courier will publish a picture depicting a certain traffic situation. The object of the game is to determine whether or not a SAFETY rule or precaution (not necessarily a legal violation) is involved and if the answer is "Yes," to tell in not more than 25 words what, in your judgment, constitutes a violation of the precepts of SAFETY.

2—Any man or woman, except employees of The Journal and Courier and members of their families may submit an answer. NO SUBSCRIPTIONS REQUIRED. In fact, you do not have to be a subscriber or even an occasional reader to compete. Copies of The Journal and Courier are on file at the Library and at the office of the newspapers. Facsimiles of the daily drawings and forms will be accepted.

3—CASH PRIZES as listed in this announcement will be awarded for the 82 best sets of 50 answers. Awards will be made on the basis of correctness, neatness, spelling, brevity and composition.

4—No entries will be returned. Those bearing insufficient postage will be returned by the Postoffice Department. Only one prize will be awarded to any one household, or where any group of two or more persons have been working together and only one entry may be submitted by any one person.

5—DO NOT SUBMIT ELABORATELY DECORATED ANSWERS.

6—HOLD ALL ANSWERS UNTIL THE ENTIRE SET OF FIFTY PICTURES HAS BEEN PUBLISHED. Those violating this rule will be disqualified. Once a list of answers has been filed, no additions or corrections can be made. Bring or mail your complete list of answers to The Traffic Safety Game Editor, Journal and Courier, 110 South West Street, Jacksonville, Illinois, not later than midnight, Saturday, May 23, 1936. Entries postmarked later than midnight of that date will be rejected.

7—Three capable judges, selected by The Journal and Courier, will decide the winners and by entering this contest all participants agree to accept their decisions as final and binding in all matters. In case of a tie, duplicate prizes will be paid for the positions tied.

8—The Journal and Courier will not be responsible for any entries lost or delayed in transit by mail or otherwise. For your own protection, therefore, write your name and address on each of your answers as well as on the envelope bearing your complete solution.

$200 IN CASH PRIZES

—No strings to this offer and no subscriptions required. Be one of the 82 persons who will WIN CASH AWARDS for their knowledge of traffic safety rules.

Most drivers and pedestrians are quite sure they know all there is to know about SAFE driving or walking. Here's a chance to test your knowledge. The "Human element" is the major contributing factor in the appalling list of American traffic casualties. To play SAFE be sure you know the rules—then follow them. Beginning Tuesday, March 10th, The Jacksonville Journal and Courier will print one illustration of a traffic rule problem each day for 50 publication days, excepting Sunday and Monday.

Clip these illustrations from The Jacksonville Journal or Courier, write out your answers and submit in accordance with the simple rules of the game.

Everyone may compete except employees of The Journal and Courier or members of their families. On this page one of the problems is illustrated just as they will appear in the paper, except that the correct answer and a typical suitable explanation is given.

REDS WIN

Miami, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Cincinnati Reds, aided by five walks, a sacrifice, and two hits, scored all their runs in the fifth inning today to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 4, for the second straight day.

The American leaguers outlast the Reds 5 to 4, bunching three of the hits off Don Brennan in the sixth with a walk and an error, to tally their fourth win.

Gone Schott, starting pitcher for Cincinnati, permitted one hit in the five innings he worked.

Saturday callers in Jacksonville from Franklin included Mr. and Mrs. Van Seymour.

Fred Pinkerton of Franklin was in the city yesterday.

Kenneth Sheppard was in the city from Murrayville.

W. E. Mosley, Republican candidate for coroner. Your vote and influence will be appreciated. Primary April 14.

Hull Pours Leather Into Cage To Defeat Pittsfield 41 To 23

Perry Beats Nebo In First Game; Hull Steams Up In Third Period

Pittsfield, March 7.—Pouring the leather through the hoop in the third quarter, Hull raced away with the regional tournament championship here tonight 41 to 23. Pittsfield will play Payson and Hull meets Quincy in their opening games in the Pittsfield sectional tournament opening next Wednesday night. Nebo defeated Perry in a nip and tuck basketball game for third place 26 to 22.

Hull led all the way, but Pittsfield stayed in the fight to the end of the first half, when Hull had only a 15 to 13 lead. Hull, Pike county champions, straightened out their troubles in the intermission and then raced away to a 31 to 18 lead in the third period.

Marse Joe Meets Rookie Joe

A bat ballyhooed as one of the most powerful to come up to the majors in years is shown here being given the once-over by its owner, Joe DiMaggio, left, Yankee rookie outfielder obtained from San Francisco, and Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York squad. On his first drill with the American League team at St. Petersburg, DiMaggio hit three balls that would have carried over most of the league park walls.

Delay in announcing the sectional assignments and pairings yesterday had several sectional managers tearing their hair.

M. E. Woodworth, at Pittsfield, was at a loss. He wanted to get out some dope on his tournament, but he didn't know who was going to compete. He didn't know where to send his advertising matter, and couldn't rig up any ballyhoo.

And from now on, Jacksonville high is not going to take any tickets to a sectional tournament before the semifinal game is over.

Dan Cloud, manager of the I. S. D. regional, anticipated that the Crimsons were going to beat Murrayville at the end of the first half, and when the second half began, turned over to Coach Frank Walker his credentials for entering a sectional tournament. Then Murrayville started.

"If we had started throwing for the basket sooner, we'd have licked Jacksonville," was the only comment Kenneth Brown, Murrayville's double ace, had to make after the game. The Shadows dispelled their defeat by plunging into the I. S. D. pool for a swim before returning to Murrayville.

And just for fun, we asked "Flea-Bite" Baker, better known as "Buck-ete" to his team-mates, how tall he is. "I'm six feet two and a half inches tall," he snapped—and there were some of the J. H. S. lads who felt the same way about this five foot ball player who created a sensation with his goal tossing.

Don't be surprised if Murrayville turns up with a regional champion next year. Their sectional runner-up of last year were shattered by graduation and loss of players to White Hall through one family moving away, but they'll have a ball club next year with Ken Brown and Baker throwing for goals. The rest of the squad will have had time to get some more co-ordination, and when they do, watch them go.

Illinois School for the Deaf played themselves out of the Central States Deaf tournament, to begin next Friday at Flint, Michigan, when they beat Winchester in the semi-finals. They'll play in a sectional tournament next week.

To make up for the loss of a trip to Michigan, Coach S. Robey Burns has promised his players a trip to Champaign to see the finals of the state high school tournament.

Greenfield's regional beat Jacksonville on gate receipts Friday night for the semi-finals by about $400. The local receipts were $146, and they took in 150 dollars at Greenfield when White Hall and Waverly came together.

Eddie Long, who whistled in the Jacksonville regional, worked here last year with "Cap" Crossley, of Quincy. Instead of Grimmer, Long has whistled over 200 ball games this year, working in about a dozen tournaments.

He's an attorney by profession, which probably accounts for the little entertainment he put on over the public address system between the quarters of the J. H. S. Murrayville game.

"Frosty" England had enough tough luck this year to rate himself a place in the mourner's row. He lost three of his varsity squad just before the regional tournament because of illness, and despite his troubles, gave Hull a tight ball game.

Hillsboro didn't even get started in the regionals because of an epidemic.

White Hall Snaps Up Regional Title In Last 3 Minutes

Wendell's Only Three Points During Game Give Maroons Greenfield Crown

Greenfield, March 7.—"Alley-Oop" Wendell's only three points in a hectic basketball game here tonight gave White Hall a 28 to 25 victory over Carlinville here tonight in the finals of the Greenfield regional tournament after Carlinville had taken the lead in the fourth period. White Hall will play Litchfield in its first game in the Gillespie sectional tournament.

Capt. Whittier, of Carlinville, was fouled out of the game with about three minutes to go when Carlinville had a three point lead, and immediately White Hall shot into the lead, with Fair dropping in three points to tie the count, and Wendell bumping in a field goal followed by a free throw to clinch the game.

T. J. Woodard was the star of the game, intercepting more than a dozen Carlinville passes, and playing a heady ball game at both ends of the court. Whittier kept Fair covered well until the last few minutes when the White Hall ace began outwitting his guard for short shots.

Joe DiMaggio Is "Sweet" Player

By Eddie Brietz
Associated Press Sports Writer
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—The most talked about baseball rookie since Dizzy Dean blew in from Houston has been voted "all right" by his teammates on the New York Yankees.

Young Joe DiMaggio, the outfield sensation from the Pacific coast, hasn't had a chance yet to prove he can go on the big time but the Yankees, from Manager Joe McCarthy on down, like what they've seen of him.

He's been graded A-plus on size, speed, willingness and hustle, and that's a good start for any rookie in any man's league.

Joe's arrival in camp was almost as much of an event as the night the celebrated Jimmy Fox walked into the Red Sox hotel at Sarasota, carrying his own grips. Some of the regulars actually went over and introduced themselves to DiMaggio.

The first question Charlie Ruffing, veteran pitcher, asked on reaching St. Pete was "where is this DiMaggio?" Then he went over and made himself acquainted.

It's too early to tell much about him yet," says Manager McCarthy, "but he certainly can hit a ball a long way. We'll have to see what he can do when the pitchers begin to beat down. At that, he's hitting straight balls further than some of the others."

DiMaggio, who batted .399 for the San Francisco Seals last year, comes east ticketed as a sweet fielding, hard throwing outfielder who can hit any and all kinds of pitching. If he lives up to his press notices, he'll do about everything except make Yankee rooters forget George Herman Ruth.

Pew major leaguers have a finer pair of hands than the western lad. They are big and strong, with the long fingers managers and scouts look for. Joe can grip five baseballs in either hand.

DiMaggio is 21, stands six feet, one and weighs 187 pounds. He was at playing weight when he reached camp. Right now he looks like he'll have to battle it out with George Selkirk for the right field job. Roy Johnson, formerly with the Red Sox and Ben Chapman—if he signs—tentatively are booked for left and center.

Put on Last Quarter Rally To Smother Tigers; Wildcats Beat Murrayville by 32-24

re-vitalized Winchester team in the consolation game.

Battling them on even terms through a fast first half, the Shadows skidded during the third quarter when Winchester marked up its lead, and slumped during the fourth period when the Wildcats opened up with all of their speed and deception to whip up a good margin.

Winchester had its regular starting line-up together for the first time in the tournament, and played some of the smartest basketball it has shown during the four nights of play. All of the Wildcats points came from in close to the hoop as they tore open the Shadow defense during the final period.

Gillespie—Edwardsville vs Jerseyville.

Hull Pours Leather Into Cage To Defeat Pittsfield 41 To 23

Perry Beats Nebo In First Game; Hull Steams Up In Third Period

Pittsfield, March 7.—Pouring the leather through the hoop in the third quarter, Hull raced away with the regional tournament championship here tonight 41 to 23. Pittsfield will play Payson and Hull meets Quincy in their opening games in the Pittsfield sectional tournament opening next Wednesday night. Nebo defeated Perry in a nip and tuck basketball game for third place 26 to 22.

Hull led all the way, but Pittsfield stayed in the fight to the end of the first half, when Hull had only a 15 to 13 lead. Hull, Pike county champions, straightened out their troubles in the intermission and then raced away to a 31 to 18 lead in the third period.

Marse Joe Meets Rookie Joe

A bat ballyhooed as one of the most powerful to come up to the majors in years is shown here being given the once-over by its owner, Joe DiMaggio, left, Yankee rookie outfielder obtained from San Francisco, and Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York squad. On his first drill with the American League team at St. Petersburg, DiMaggio hit three balls that would have carried over most of the league park walls.

Delay in announcing the sectional assignments and pairings yesterday had several sectional managers tearing their hair.

M. E. Woodworth, at Pittsfield, was at a loss. He wanted to get out some ope on his tournament, but he didn't know who was going to compete, didn't know where to send his advertising matter, and couldn't rig up any ballyhoo.

And from now on, Jacksonville high is not going to take any tickets to a sectional tournament before the semi-final game is over.

Dan Cloud, manager of the I. S. D. regional, anticipated that the Crimsons were going to beat Murrayville at the end of the first half, and when the second half began, turned over to Coach Frank Walker his credentials for entering a sectional tournament. Then Murrayville started.

"If we had started throwing for the basket sooner, we'd have licked Jacksonville," was the only comment Ken Brown, Murrayville's double ace had to make after the game. The Shadows dispelled their defeat by plunging into the I. S. D. pool for a swim before returning to Murrayville.

And just for fun, we asked "Flea-Bite" Baker, better known as "Buck-Bite" to his team-mates, how tall he is. "I'm six feet two and a half inches tall," he snapped—and there were some of the J. H. S. lads who felt the same way about this five foot ball player who created a sensation with his goal tossing.

Don't be surprised if Murrayville turns up with a regional champion next year. Their sectional runners-up of last year were shattered by graduation and loss of players to White Hall through one family moving away, but they'll have a ball club next year with Ken Brown and Baker throwing for goals. The rest of the squad will have had time to get some more co-ordination, and when they do, watch them go.

Illinois School for the Deaf played themselves out of the Central States Deaf tournament, to begin next Friday at Flint, Michigan, when they beat Winchester in the semi-finals. They'll play in a sectional tournament next week.

To make up for the loss of a trip to Michigan, Coach S. Robey Burns has promised his players a trip to Champaign to see the finals of the state high school tournament.

Greenfield's regional beat Jacksonville on gate receipts Friday night for the semi-finals by about $400. The local receipts were $146, and they took in 150 dollars at Greenfield when White Hall and Waverly came together.

Eddie Long, who whistled in the Jacksonville regional, worked here last year with "Cap" Crossley, of Quincy, instead of Grimmer. Long has whistled over 200 ball games this year, working in about a dozen tournaments.

He's an attorney by profession, which probably accounts for the little entertainment he put on over the public address system between the quarters of the J. H. S.—Murrayville game.

"Frosty" England had enough tough luck this year to rate himself a place in the mourner's row. He lost three of his varsity squad just before the regional tournament because of illness, and despite his troubles, gave Hull a tight ball game.

Hillsboro didn't even get started in the regionals because of an epidemic.

White Hall Snaps Up Regional Title In Last 3 Minutes

Wendell's Only Three Points During Game Give Maroons Greenfield Crown

Greenfield, March 7.—"Alley-Oop!" Wendell's only three points in a hectic basketball game here tonight gave White Hall a 28 to 25 victory over Carlinville here tonight in the finals of the Greenfield regional tournament after Carlinville had taken the lead in the fourth period. White Hall will play Litchfield in its first game in the Gillespie sectional tournament.

Capt. Whittier, of Carlinville, was fouled out of the game with about three minutes to go when Carlinville had a three point lead, and immediately White Hall shot into the lead, with Fair dropping in three points to tie the count, and Wendell bumping in a field goal followed by a free throw to clinch the game.

T. J. Woodard was the star of the game, intercepting more than a dozen Carlinville passes, and playing a heady ball game at both ends of the court. Whittier kept Fair covered well until the last few minutes when the White Hall ace began outwitting his guard for short shots.

Joe DiMaggio Is "Sweet" Player

Associated Press Sports Writer
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 7.—(P)—The most talked about baseball rookie since Dizzy Dean blew in from Housh—has been voted "all right" by his teammates on the New York Yankees.

Young Joe DiMaggio, the outfield sensation from the Pacific coast, hasn't had a chance yet to prove he can go on the big time but the Yankees, from Manager Joe McCarthy on down, like what they've seen of him.

He's been graded A-plus on size, speed, willingness and hustle, and that's a good start for any rookie in any man's league.

Joe's arrival in camp was almost as much of an event as the night he celebrated Jimmy Fox's walk into the Red Sox hotel at Sarasota, carrying his own grips. Some of the regulars actually went over and introduced themselves to DiMaggio.

The first question Charlie Ruffing, veteran pitcher, asked on reaching St. Pete was "where is this DiMaggio?" Then he went over and made himself acquainted.

It's too early to tell much about him yet," says Manager McCarthy, "but he certainly can hit a ball a long way. We'll have to see what he can do when the pitchers begin to bear down. At that, he's hitting straight balls further than some of the others."

DiMaggio, who batted .399 for the San Francisco Seals last year, comes east ticketed as a sweet fielding, hard hitting outfielder who can hit any and all kinds of pitching. If he lives up to his press notices, he'll do about everything except make Yankee rooters forget George Herman Ruth.

Few major leaguers have a finer pair of hands than the western lad. They are big and strong, with the long fingers managers and scouts look for. Joe can grip five baseballs in either hand.

DiMaggio is 21, stands six feet, one and weighs 187 pounds. He was at playing weight when he reached camp.

Right now it looks like he'll have to battle it out with George Selkirk for the right field job. Roy Johnson, formerly with the Red Sox and Ben Chapman—if he signs—tentatively are booked for left and center.

Jerseyville Smacks Grafton For Title

Allen Pushes In 19 Points To Lead Scoring; Gillespie Forfeits Consolation

Jerseyville, March 7.—Jersey Township high school scooped up a regional tournament championship here tonight to advance to the Gillespie sectional tournament, snowing under Grafton with an avalanche of points in the third quarter after Grafton had hung on dangerously close all the way.

Gillespie forfeited to Rockbridge in the scheduled consolation game, and Rockbridge put on an exhibition of basketball as it probably will be played next year, without the center jump.

Cubs' Regulars Beat Yannigans

Avallon Calif. March 7—(P)—Lonnie Warneke and Charley Root, two of the Chicago Cubs' top flight pitchers, failed to accomplish anything today in the way of stopping the regulars in an intra-camp game.

Making their first serious starts of the season, Warneke and Root were clipped for 12 hits each as the regulars won their fourth straight victory, 15 to 6. Root worked four innings, with Warneke serving the remaining five. Augie Galan again headed the sluggers with a triple, double and a single. Bill Herman had two doubles and three singles, while Chuck Klein, still showing no signs of slowing his early season form at the plate, drove out a home run and a pair of singles.

Put on Last Quarter Rally To Smother Tigers; Wildcats Beat Murrayville by 32-24

Jacksonville high returned to the peak of the Jacksonville regional tournament here last night when they smothered Illinois School for the Deaf with a fourth quarter rally to win the championship 25 to 12, and their first championship in several years. Winchester made good on its third effort to beat Murrayville, closing with a terrific scoring dash to pile up a 32 to 24 score.

For the Crimsons, it was a brilliant step toward a sectional tournament at Pittsfield where they will meet Carthage, defeated last night by Colchester 35 to 18 for the Carthage regional championship. Illinois School for the Deaf will meet Beardstown in the first game of the Pittsfield sectional, Wednesday night of this week.

The Tigers, determined to stop the Crimson scoring attack, shot a slow break at them, and kept it going until the last quarter when the Crimsons began some of their most brilliant basketball of the tournament to leap into a lead which grew rapidly as lanky George Moxon rammed in five points. Big George Hamilton a pair of buckets, and Baptist a goal and a free shot to roll up 13 points in eight minutes.

Keeping in the ball game by dropping in free tosses, the Tigers trailed only three points, 12-9 at the end of the third quarter. They had marked up only two goals from the field, and during the whole game tallied only three as Moxon, Hamilton and Bellatti slapped down almost all of the Tiger efforts to throw from short range.

Moxon Grabs Spotlight
Moxon was the feature of the battle, playing a whale of a defensive game, and then mingling in the offense to lead the scoring with eight points. Too tall for the Deaf lads to cover, he slipped in and around them to get in for short shots just when the going became tough. Surprising, also, was the showing made by a couple of reserves, Wilbur Baptist and John Wright, who speeded up play during the fourth quarter after Hamm had been fouled out and Lukeman had been withdrawn for instructions. Both boys stayed in when Lukeman returned for Bellatti, who likewise played an excellent game. Hamilton, along with Moxon, kept the Tiger center, Baumann, from doing anything from the field, and they kept the Tiger forwards from working under the hoop for rebounds.

The Tigers got away in front on Otter's free toss after the referee had penalized the Jacksonville rooting section for booing, but Lukeman dropped in a free toss to tie the score. Baumann got his lone field goal on a one hand pivot shot near the cage, but Bellatti tied it up by making both chances of a double award. Hamilton put the Crimsons out in front by bumping in a rebound.

Moxon nudged in his first field goal when he tipped in a rebound from Bobby Hamm's free throw, and Lukeman tossed in his first bucket after several futile dashes for the cage, with a two handed kip-shot. Moxon dropped in a free throw to give J.H.S. a 10-3 lead, and Arman made a free toss to end the half 10-4, Jacksonville.

Hitting from the free throw line, the Tigers crept up on a stalled J. H. S. team, Dhondt sinking one, and Baumann two. Arman fouled out with three minutes to go in the third quarter and Hamm made the toss, which Bellatti followed by dropping in another gift. Hamm fouled out with 24 minutes to go. Wells scoring for I. S. D. on the penalty and making the count 12-9 at the end of the third period.

Whipping up to something like their former speed, the Crimsons launched a furious attack to give Moxon a chance for a successful rebound, and then the tall lad arched in a two handed shot from the side, and made a free throw awarded him when he was fouled on the toss. Johnny Wright tore into the cage to flip in a short set-up, and Baptist pitched in a free toss to make the count 20-9. Baumann connected from the free throw line, but Hamilton rebounded a shot for two points, Baptist slipped in a shot from the corner, and Hamilton pitched in a free throw. Wells made the final points for the Tigers on a set-up.

The Tigers tried all through the game to throw the Crimsons off their stride with a slow break, holding the ball as long as they could before attempting a shot. The Crimsons, however, were not bothered by this type of game, for their defense smashed down Tiger thrusts, and their offense moved the ball quickly into Crimson scoring territory.

The Tigers tried a man-to-man defense during the first half, and then shifted to a zone during the final half. The Crimsons had too much height for the Tigers, and they used it to great advantage.

Winchester Stars Murrayville.
Deprived of "Flea-Bite" Baker, who yielded to a broken mirror jinx and came down with the mumps Saturday morning after playing a bang-up game against the Crimsons Friday night, and of Ken Brown, who was the outstanding player in the tournament, with Big George Moxon running a close second, when he retired with four personals in the third quarter, Murrayville's Shadows yielded to the re-vitalized Winchester team in the consolation game.

Battling them on even terms through a fast first half, the Shadows skidded during the third quarter when Winchester marked up its lead, and slumped during the fourth period when the Wildcats opened up with all of their speed and deception to whip up a good margin.

Winchester had its regular starting line-up together for the first time in the tournament, and played some of the smartest basketball it has shown during the four nights of play. All of the wildcat points came from in close to the hoop as they tore open the Shadow defense during the final period.

Y. M. Basketball Leagues Will Play

A AND B Leagues Will Get Underway This Week At D. P.

Plans have just been completed by the Y. M. C. A. for two basketball leagues to be played during the remainder of the month of March. One league, composed of stronger teams will be known as "League A" and the other league of weaker teams will be known as "League B."

Teams entering the stronger league are: Smith's Indians, Brown's Business College, Jacksonville Merchants, Murrayville, and the Civilian Conservation Camp. Steinheimer Drug Store, managed by Henry Clark and Murrayville coached by Lyndal Symons will be new aggregations heretofore not seen on any Jacksonville court this year. The winner of this league will be given the privilege of playing Smith's Indians for individual awards of either gold basketballs or watch chains. In case the Indians win they have undisputed claim for the awards. The minor league will be a double round robin affair with the A. and B. leagues. Chevrolet, Lynnville, and the Speedboys making up the entrants. A large oak stained shield with a figure of a basketball player stained walnut will be the award to the winners.

PAUL DEAN WEAKENING; HIGGINS STANDS PAT

Dallas, Texas, March 7.—(AP)—Paul (Daffy) Dean, less talkative member of baseball's brother bad boys, indicated today he is weakening in his holdout fight with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Not so, however, with Frank (Pinkie) Higgins, who said he was getting nowhere with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Before teeing off for a round of golf, Daffy remarked:
"I haven't signed yet—but I sure hope to soon. I haven't heard a word. I'd like to retire this business."

He apparently has recovered from a bruised leg suffered in a recent automobile accident.

Higgins, star third baseman of the Athletics and the outstanding remnant of the club after a winter's heavy trading and selling, is training with the Dallas Steers.

"I'm just waiting," he said. "Mr. Mack hasn't said a word in several days—and neither have I."

Higgins, who picked up $10,000 last season, received a pay cut on the first contract offered but the second contained his old wages. Now he wants more—and argues he's worth it if he's worth $100,000 on the auction block.

INCREASE PAY CHECKS FOR VANDALIA DRIVERS

St. Louis.—(AP)—Service was resumed today on the bus lines, operating between St. Louis and Vandalia, Ill., following settlement of a strike of 12 chauffeurs.

The drivers struck Monday over wages and hours. It was announced they were given 55 cents an hour for an 8-hour day at a meeting of company and union officials last night. They were paid 52 cents an hour and asked for 62 cents. Their contract specifies a 48-hour week.

Maureen Orcutt Retains Title

By Paul Mickelson
Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Augustine, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Mrs. Maureen Orcutt Crews of Miami today chased the link that has been pursuing defending champions this winter by crushing her old foe, Mrs. Owl & Hill of Kansas City, four and three, to retain her Florida east coast golf championship.

Through a heavy mist and against a brisk wind, Mrs. Crews won three of the first four holes played. She beat back a rally from the Kansas City veteran, who eliminated the sensational Patty Berg of Minneapolis in yesterday's semi-final, and they won with a rising rush that found her beating the elements and par.

The victory gave Mrs. Crews a 500 batting average for her winter play. In four championships, she won the Palm Beach title with a 4 and 3 triumph over Miss Berg, was defeated by the Minneapolis wonder girl in the finals of the Punta Gorda, lost midway in another and then won today with one over women's par golf.

Mrs. Hill, suffering from an attack of intestinal flu, was no match for the Miami star. She couldn't get started, winning only two holes of the 15 played, and then by her opponents' mistakes. For the distance, Mrs. Hill was six over women's par while Mrs. Crews was playing almost perfect figures.

Thomas Coultas of the Markham neighborhood was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Dick Schone of Bluffs visited in Jacksonville yesterday.

Youth, 18, Tells of South Dakota Jail Break Plot; 3 Dead

Takes Full Responsibility for Starting Riot in State Prison

Sioux Falls, S. D.—(AP)—A two gun desperado today assumed full responsibility for the prison break that resulted in the death of three persons and the wounding of three others in one melodramatic hour.

Claude Carrier, 18 year old Kansan who was critically injured yesterday in his headlong attempt to free his convict brother, told officials:

"I figured it out myself."

The dead were Eugene Reiley, 72, warden of the South Dakota State penitentiary who was carried off as a hostage, Phil Ray, convict bank robber, and Berlan Meisel, 23, of Webster, S. D.

Deputy Sheriff George Collins was in serious condition from gun wounds. Miss Freda Rausch was shot in the face. Young Carrier, who hitchhiked from Kansas City to execute the plot, had four bullets in his right shoulder and two in his left arm. He was in a hospital.

Harold Carrier, serving 33 years for robbery, was back in prison while Gov. Tim Barry sought to learn how his brother managed to carry two pistols into the penitentiary.

Clyde gave an account to authorities. He said:

"I stuck two guns under my belt and went up to see my brother. I told him my plan. He said 'okay.' I pulled out a gun and covered the guy nearest me. I gave the other gun to my brother."

Clyde told how Harold went to a cell block to release Ray and how the trio removed a machine gun and rifles from the arsenal, seized the warden, stole a car in front of the prison and sped away. Guards and trustees were covered.

A series of automobile thefts running exchanges of fire with officers and surrender of the surviving fugitives five miles away ensued.

Reiley was fatally wounded during the flight. Officials were seeking to determine if he had been struck by a bullet fired by the pursuing posse. His plea for release was rejected.

PENNSYLVANIA FILES BRIEF FAVORING NEW GUFFEY CONTROL ACT

Washington.—(AP)—Asserting soft-cool conditions are "fought with grave peril not only to the 23 states concerned but the whole nation as well," the state of Pennsylvania today urged the Supreme Court to hold constitutional the Guffey act to regulate the industry.

Its brief, presented preparatory to arguments Wednesday on constitutionality of the legislation, said that upon the outcome of the litigation "will depend whether a great industry shall be rehabilitated, stabilized and put on a firm foundation or permitted to be destroyed to the ruination of not only the coal operators and labor, but many communities and citizens of Pennsylvania as well."

Y.M. Basketball Leagues Will Play

A AND B Leagues Will Get Underway This Week At D. P.

Plans have just been completed by the Y. M. C. A. for two basketball leagues to be played during the remainder of the month of March. One league composed of stronger teams will be known as "League A" and the other league of weaker teams will be known as "League B."

Teams entering the stronger league are: Smith's Indies, Brown's Business College, Jacksonville Merchants, Murrayville, and the Civilian Conservation Camp. Steinheimer Drug Store, managed by Henry Clark and Murrayville coached by Lyndall Symons will be new additions hitherto not seen on any Jacksonville court this year. The winner of this league will be given the privilege of playing Smith's Indies for individual awards of either gold basketballs or watch charms. In case the Indies win they have undisputed claim for the awards. The minor league will be a double round robin affair with the A. and P. Employees, Chevrolet, Lynnville, and the Speedboys making up the en-

PAUL DEAN WEAKENING; HIGGINS STANDS PAT

Dallas, Texas, March 7.—(AP)—Paul (Daffy) Dean, less talkative member of baseball's brother bad boys, indicated today he is weakening in his holdout fight with the St. Louis Cardinals.

Not so, however, with Frank (Pinkey) Higgins, who said he was getting nowhere with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Plans Complete For Brooks Meet Here Wednesday

Republican Candidate For Governor To Speak At High School

Plans are complete for the meeting here next Wednesday when C. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor will speak. The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Jacksonville high school at 8 o'clock in the evening and a large attendance of voters is expected.

Brooks' domestic speaking tour this week will begin Tuesday at Macomb. He will speak at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon, and in the evening will speak at Quincy. Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock Brooks will speak at Pittsfield. The meeting at Pittsfield is planned for voters of Calhoun, Scott, Pike and Brown counties.

His address here Wednesday evening will be preceded by an organization meeting to be held at the New Dunlap hotel at 7:30 o'clock for county and precinct workers. The Brooks' workers from Morgan, Cass, Mason, Menard, Greene and Jersey counties are invited to the organization meeting.

Brooks opened his campaign last week at Ottawa where more than 3,000 persons heard him discuss the issues of the campaign. Brooks was born in Bureau county, near Ottawa, and operates a farm not far from that city. His audience at Ottawa included many persons who had known him as a youth, and others who were friends of his father who was a Congregational minister, and his mother, a native of Kewanee, Ill.

CRISP COLLECTION INTERESTS PUBLIC

The Crisp collection now on view at the Steward gallery is proving extremely interesting. Including oil paintings, embroideries, hangings and gesso panels.

Two of Mrs. Crisp's most recent embroideries, one a full rigged ship, "Whaling Vessel," authentically reproduced in neutral tones, and the other a beautiful design called "Flowers" done in exquisite colors is included. Out of coarse wool in different colors she embroidered an interesting design, "Persian Riders" and "The Fox" she embroidered an interesting design to be used for samples in a nationally known magazine. Nicely handled also are "Young Prince" and "Full Bloom."

In the group of oils and water colors by Mr. Crisp, "The Blue Jacket" is a beautifully handled portrait while "Fragrant Flowers" and "The Last Warm Day" are lovely in color. Mr. Crisp's water colors, "Footlights and Shadows," a map of old New York, and several studies for his hangings, add interest and color as well to the exhibition.

The showing will continue through this week and the public is invited to view the display.

Make Changes In YMCA Activities

Transfer Of School Pupils Makes Rearrangement Necessary

A number of changes in YMCA activities last week have been found necessary for various reasons, and members are asked to make note of them. Some of the changes will be permanent, and others are temporary.

Because the pupils of the Lafayette School have been transferred to other buildings, the Lafayette Grays clubs, both the boys' club and the girls' club, will meet in the Washington school building. The girls' club, led by Mary Ensley, will meet on Wednesday after school instead of on Thursday, and the boys' club will meet with James Frey on Thursday. The Grays' clubs of the other schools will meet at their regular times and places.

The Y. French Club of the Junior High School will meet on Tuesday afternoon hereafter instead of on Thursday. This will help avoid a conflict with other activities.

The Hi-Y club will meet in the Congregational church for its regular scheduled program Thursday evening. The Jacksonville Hi-Y and Tri-Y are invited to cooperate with the Springfield YMCA and YWCA in a young people's conference to be held in Springfield on Saturday, April 25.

The Hi-Y officers recently met with a Springfield committee to make preliminary plans. Announcement has also been received regarding the National Hi-Y congress which is to be held this year in Berea, Kentucky, June 20th to 24th. This will follow by a few days the state Hi-Y conference to be held June 12 to 15 at the state YMCA camp, Camp Seymour, near Danvers.

The Young Men's Vocational club will meet Tuesday at 7:30 in the YMCA rooms, at 423 W. State street. Miss Charlotte Ryan, librarian of the Public Library, will be the speaker, having as her subject "How to Use the Public Library in Preparing for a Better Job." Any young man interested in helping himself to a better position is invited to attend the meeting of this club which is without cost.

The Women's Volley Ball league which has been using the MacMurray college gymnasium for their games on Thursday evenings, will use the Washington school gymnasium this week on Friday evening instead. On that evening the Illinois Co-eds are scheduled to meet the Woolworth girls at 7:10, the Christian church women will play the Redbirds at 8:00 and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers will meet the girls of the New Method Book Bindery at 8:50.

The men's Basketball league will have its games in the David Prince gymnasium on Monday and Tuesday nights instead of Tuesday and Thursday this week. A schedule of games for the month of March appears elsewhere in this paper. Volley ball league games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, at the Washington gym, as announced.

The Young People's Social and Game program will meet at 9 o'clock Friday in the Jefferson school gymnasium, following the neighborhood gathering, as announced. Large groups of young people are attending these hours of recreation and activity.

Boys of the 4th, 5th and 6th grades are reminded of the kite and bird house building contest which is being held at the home of the David Prince gymnasium Saturday morning. Announcements will be made at the various schools as to where the "preliminaries" are to be held. This contest is one of the YMCA-WPA recreation projects. Prizes, secured through the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, will be awarded.

The Grays' girls' clubs officers will hold their regular meeting Friday afternoon at the Public Library building. The officers of the Lafayette school are to have charge of this meeting.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Ashland M. E. church held a Founder's Day program, with appropriate candle lighting service. Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. J. Wyatt and Mrs. Lois Wyatt, Mrs. Fred Prior was leader of the program which was as follows:

To Open Ashland Old Age Pension Offices Monday

Supt. George Farrar Will Take Applications; Other News Notes

Ashland, March 7.—Offices have been established in the library rooms in Ashland for George W. Farrar, Superintendent of Public Welfare, (Old Age Pensions), who will be in Ashland Monday and Tuesday, March 9 and 10, for the purpose of taking applications of aged persons who are unable to be present at the Virginia offices.

News Notes.
James Baggis, road commissioner of Ashland township, has been notified that the government gravel project for graveling roads in the township has been approved, the grant being $18,000.

Mr. Raoulff, of Peoria, district engineer, met Monday in the library rooms with local truckers and arranged for hauling the gravel. Ten trucks are required, but only five are in operation at one time, at intervals of 130 hours each. Grading will be begun as soon as road conditions will permit and will be followed by spreading of the gravel.

Mrs. E. J. Mau entertained the members of her bridge club at her country home southeast of Ashland Friday. Pot luck luncheon was followed by two tables of bridge. First prize was won by Mrs. R. V. Brownback, second by Mrs. Homer Butler and traveling prize to Mrs. Conway Walbaum. Others present were Mrs. Louis M. Martin, Mrs. Paul Duling, Mrs. Henry Votsmier, Mrs. Leo Votsmier and Mrs. Fred Walbaum.

The Ladies' Aid society of St. Augustine's Catholic church met Thursday afternoon in the church hall. Three tables of bridge were enjoyed and first and second honors were won by Mrs. George Barrows and Mrs. Ralph Newell. The hostesses, Mrs. Della Hergenrother and Miss Elizabeth Hergenrother, served dainty refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

Mrs. Ada Walbaum was hostess on Thursday to members of the Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church. About twenty were present to enjoy the bountiful and delicious pot luck dinner served at noon, then the afternoon was spent in sewing.

The Centenary Community club will hold the March meeting Wednesday afternoon, March 11, at 2:30 o'clock, at the country home of Mrs. Walter Seve, who will be assisted by Miss Mabel Smith. Mrs. Alfred Braxwell, R. N., a graduate of Springfield hospital, will give an informal talk on "Common Colds, Their Prevention and Care." Roll call will be responded to with "Helps for Housecleaning." Special musical features are being planned.

Brotherhood Of Winchester Plans Planting Project

To Replace Trees Thru Program Under Way; Other News From Scott

Winchester, March 7.—The Winchester Brotherhood is sponsoring a tree planting program for Winchester and vicinity which expects to go into full swing in the very near future. At a meeting of the committee, which is headed by Charles E. Price and includes H. B. Corrie, E. H. Miner, Claude Frederick, R. L. Schwab, Roy L. Dieterle and Albert Krueger, Tuesday evening plans were outlined for a drive to interest people in this community in replacing trees which have been lost through decay and windstorms. It was pointed out that many of the present trees in the city are dangerous because of decay and that new trees should be planted to replace them.

The committee of the Brotherhood has enlisted the co-operation and support of other civic organizations. The committee on public affairs of the Winchester Kiwanis Club recently approved the project and recommended that the members of the club cooperate in replacing the trees of the community. The project has also received the endorsement of the Winchester Woman's Club.

The Woman's Club was first interested in the movement more than a year ago when Mr. Otwell of the Otwell Iris farms spoke to the organization upon this subject.

The March meeting of the Brotherhood will be devoted to the work of this committee and a program has been planned under the direction of H. B. Corrie and George Reid, farm adviser, to educate the members of the club in tree planting. The committee plans to put on a public demonstration in tree planting in the public square in the near future. This will be sponsored by the agriculture classes of the high school under the direction of Mr. Corrie. It is also planned to take orders for trees from those people who wish to make purchases and order them in large quantities at a distinct saving. The details for placing orders will be announced at a later date.

Will Close Relief Cases.
Relief Administrator Guy H. Coding announced today that all relief cases where there is an employable member in the family will be closed Tuesday, March 10th. According to arrangements sanctioned by the county relief committee no relief will be granted to these cases until the employable members in these families submit signed statements from three or more employers stating that they have contacted them for employment and been refused jobs. If the relief clients submit this proof that they have tried to find employment and failed they will be continued on the relief rolls of the county.

The committee voted to take this action in view of the frequent reports by farmers that they have been unable to find men because they prefer to draw relief and also because of a 13 per cent cut in the allocation of relief funds to Scott County for the month of March. In order for the relief office to operate within its budget it will be necessary to make a marked cut in the relief rolls. This arrangement is not applicable to old age and physical disability cases.

Forum to Meet.
The Men's Chapter No. 6 of the National Research Forum will meet Monday evening, March 9th, at the home of Rev. P. V. Wright. Rev. Wright will also present the paper of the evening.

News Notes.

Wheat Prices Hit
One Dollar Level

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Stirred by tardy recognition of menacing features of Europe's newest crisis, wheat rose practically 2 cents today, and regained a favorite goal, $1.00 a bushel.

Although at first almost ignored as a stimulus toward higher prices, Germany's spectacular action sending military forces to the Rhineland in defiance of treaties was later chiefly responsible for the most active buying of the wheat market here has witnessed in many weeks. This development did not take place, however, until the Winnipeg market which long has acted as a drag on values, gave evidence of at last showing a vigorous upward trend.

Wheat in Chicago closed relatively buoyant, 11-12 cents above yesterday's finish, May 86 1/2-100, July 86 1/2-100, corn 4-4 1/2 up, May 60 1/2-61, oats 1-1 1/2 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25 cents.

As the day approached an end, recent speculative sellers of wheat showed signs of pronounced nervousness over chances of actual armed clashes among European nations. All profit-taking offers on the part of holders of wheat futures were readily absorbed at this stage, and price upturns were held without any reaction right until the close. Accelerating the rise of values was word that export purchases of Canadian wheat today would total more than 1,000,000 bushels, and that Australian supplies were being rapidly drawn upon, indicating less competition from Australia hereafter.

Stock Prices Are
Fractionally Off

By Frank MacMillan

Associated Press Financial Writer
New York, March 7.—(AP)—Cross-currents, inspired by a revival of European war fears, swept through today's stock market.

As German troops marched into the Rhineland, and the French cancelled all army leaves, recent equity leaders dipped fractions to around 2 points. At the same time copper and aviation issues, which stand to benefit by foreign military orders, enjoyed a near-noon rally that sent many of them to new high levels for the past several years.

Selling in the list, as a whole, however, far outdistanced buying demand, and the Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed 5 1/2 of a point lower at 62.9. Transfers totalled 1,472,000 shares as compared with 890,760 last Saturday.

Stocks were weakest in the first hour. Some support was accorded the majority near the finish. Many issues shaded their declines to small amounts.

Some selling was reported from foreign sources, but this was not expected to attain serious proportions in view of the fact that European speculators and investors may make the United States will be a safer place for their funds if an upheaval occurs abroad.

There was little change in the bright industrial picture, and Washington developments, including tax agitation, failed to shake the confidence of the financial sector in the continuance of economic recovery.

Chicago Swine
Prices Steady

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Steady prices were paid for a meager run of hogs in the open livestock market today, inasmuch as there were no strictly choice light butchers available, the top was off a dime to 10 cents. Receipts totalled 4,000 but 3,000 of these were direct.

Hog prices were unsettled this week, cattle advanced early but lost much of this upturn and fat lambs gained around 50 cents. Current Chicago quotations on hogs are about on a par with a month ago and about a year ago. Unsettled by a sharper demand for light weights, only around 50 cents above a year ago. Cattle are 25 cents to $1 below a month ago and $2.50 to $3 below a year ago. Lambs are about 50 cents below a month ago but $1 or more above a year ago.

For the first time in months hog receipts at the seven principal mid-west markets this week exceeded the totals of the previous week and a year ago. Unsettled by a sharper demand for light weights, heavy hogs went to a sharp discount. As a result, while lights and butchers gained about 5 to 15 cents and shows mostly 10 cents during the week, the average price, because of the substantial increase in weight, declined 5 cents to $10.03 on Friday.

The cattle market closed with better grades selling barely steady compared with a week earlier and lower grades strong to 25 cents higher. Fed heifers gained 50 cents, but bulls and weaners were lower. The week's cattle top was $12.

Wheat Prices Hit One Dollar Level

By John P. Boughan
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, March 7.—(P)—Stirred by tardy recognition of menacing features of Europe's newest crisis, wheat rose practically 2 cents today, and regained a favorite goal, $1.00 a bushel.

Although at first almost ignored as a stimulus toward higher prices, Germany's spectacular action sending military forces to the Rhineland in defiance of treaties was later chiefly responsible for the most active buying in many weeks. This development did not take place, however, until the Winnipeg market which long has acted as a drag on values, gave evidence of at last showing a vigorous upward trend.

Wheat in Chicago closed relatively buoyant, 11-12 cents above yesterday's finish, May 99 1/2-1.00, July 89 1/2-90, corn 1-4 up, May 60 1/2-61, oats 1-4 advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25 cents.

As the day approached an end, recent speculative sellers of wheat showed signs of pronounced nervousness over chances of actual armed clashes among European nations. All profit-taking offers on the part of holders of wheat futures were readily absorbed at this stage, and price upturns were held without any reaction right until the close. Accelerating the rise of values was word that export purchases of Canadian wheat total would total more than 1,000,000 bushels, and that Australian supplies were being rapidly drawn upon, indicating less competition from Australia hereafter.

Chicago Swine Prices Steady

Chicago, March 7.—(P)—Steady prices were paid for a meager run of hogs in the open livestock market today, inasmuch as there were no strictly choice light butchers available, the top was off a dime to 10 1/2. Receipts totaled 4,000 but 3,000 of these were direct.

Hog prices were unsettled this week, cattle advanced early but lost much of this upturn and fat lambs gained around 50 cents. Current Chicago quotations on hogs are about on a par with a month ago and year ago. Unsettled by a sharper demand for light weights, only around 50 cents above a year ago. Cattle are 25 cents to $1 below a month ago and $2.50 to $3 below a year ago. Lambs are about 50 cents below a month ago but $1 or more above a year ago.

For the first time in months hog receipts at the seven principal mid-west markets this week exceeded the totals of the previous week and a year ago. Unsettled by a sharper demand for light weights, heavy hogs went to a sharp discount. As a result, while lights and butchers gained about 5 to 15 cents and shows mostly 10 cents during the week, the average price, because of the substantial increase in weight, declined 5 cents to $10.03 on Friday.

The cattle market closed with better grades selling barely steady compared with a week earlier and lower grades strong to 25 cents higher. Fed heifers gained 50 cents, but bells and vealers were lower. The week's cattle top was $12.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JANE WESTON feels her dreams have come true when she starts out on a three weeks' ocean cruise, accepted in payment for the auto loan her mother had secured for which she worked as typist suspended publication.

On board the ship, she meets handsome DIRK STROM, expert ski jumper, as pennant as her suit. The two are much attracted to each other. Then a misunderstanding comes between them. Jane is attracted by the attentions of LINDA ROSS, opera singer, and Dirk, through the frequent action of YOLA LANE, famous actress and owner of the Kinkor diamond.

Others among the passengers are SNOWSHOES, detective; MAJANE DOREN, secretary and eccentric; DUTCH LENZ, and NANNIE JACKSON, the maid.

KEEN, MARTIN and LINDA HAYES, floor show entertainers. Snowshoes, who is a New Lane, is a Kinkor diamond over to the owner. They go to her suit. The two are much attracted to each other. Then a misunderstanding comes between them. Jane is attracted by the attentions of LINDA ROSS, opera singer, and Dirk, through the frequent action of YOLA LANE, famous actress and owner of the Kinkor diamond.

Leaving Nannas behind, a storm comes up that threatens to become a hurricane. Stewards notify passengers to get their life jackets. Madame Dorena reports that Milie, her companion, is missing.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII
The steady roar of the big blow drowned the sound of every other thing except the pounding noise of the waves and of decks awash. The great giant shuddered and shook off the countless tons of water. People simply looked at one another and asked the awesome question, "What is going to happen now?"

Nora Lane took up the Punch and Judy show, and lured small children, eyes stark with terror, into play again. The orchestra in the saloon played, trying to drown the fears. People stood around listening, trying to forget the shrieking elements outside. Ken Martin sang.

Down in front of the orchestra sat Linda Hayes, the little dancer. As Ken sang of love, his tenor voice clear as a bell though he was choking with his real emotion—fear for Linda's safety.

Ken knew that the detective thought his girl was in the know on the murder of Maude Jackson. And even as he sang, his eyes watched the whole scene in the recreation rooms, fearful.

Something of Ken's anxiety conveyed itself to Jane, who sat momentarily charmed by Ken's crooning for love.

Jane knew what Ken's fears were. She sat close to Linda, thinking it might help Ken to know she was watching Linda, too. Feeling these things intensely Jane thought she was witnessing a love which transcended all the petty avowals of affection one heard in the course of shipboard romance.

BUT then it happened before Jane's stricken eyes. There was a freshening of the roar outside and a roll of the boat as the waves pounded amidship. Ken was flung from the orchestra stand, and going down, his head hit a corner of the piano.

When Linda reached Ken his face was white and a thin trickle of blood coursed down the side of his head. She worked feverishly over him, calling out his name. "Ken! Ken! Speak to me, Oh, Ken, speak to me!"

"I don't want to know anything about your past," Ken said. "All I want to do is keep you safe—now!" She kissed him, still tearful, while the people looked on.

But the detective said, "I couldn't find Dutch Lenz below."

The blow on his head had stunned him. The ship's doctor was tending one of the desperately ill on board. Somebody cried out for ammonia, brandy—any stimulant. None of these was at hand, and Linda stood up, her face lined with distress. She faced Jane.

"Oh, he can't be—" Linda couldn't bring herself to say the word. "Oh, I love him, I love him. Can't somebody do—"

She tore herself loose from the crowd, and ran across the ballroom. "I've a medicine kit in my stateroom," she called over a shoulder to Jane. Jane had to run to keep up with her. A steward tried to keep them from going below, but they broke loose from him when Linda kicked his shins.

The lights were dim in the passageway. Linda's stateroom they glowed feebly, almost extinct. "My life belt is under the lower berth," Linda said. "Get it for me while I find the kit."

Jane knelt beside the berth, reaching for the life preserver, while Linda went inside the bathroom.

Linda pulled the medicine kit back and grabbed the medicine kit inside the case. She slammed the mirror back and reached up for a bottle of ammonia. She faced the mirror, and then at the sight she saw over a shoulder, she clutched the medicine kit to her, and screamed.

Not observing Jane in the dim light a masked man had entered the stateroom and was crouched over Linda, preparing to strangle her.

When Linda screamed he lunged toward her, but a roll of the ship sent his body crashing against the wall. She slipped away from him and came to Jane, who had heard her scream and stood wide-eyed at the sight of the man lying on the bathroom floor. It was too dark to see him plainly. She grabbed Linda's hand, and they fled from the room.

BREATHLESS, they reached the recreation rooms on the boat deck again. Linda went to Ken, who was murmuring feebly now, calling out her name.

Somebody had produced a bottle of brandy, and was pouring a few drops through his lips. Ken shook his head, then stared up at Linda. For a moment he didn't know what had happened, but his first thought was for Linda.

"Darling!" he said. "Don't leave me. I'm afraid for you."

She gathered his head in her arms, and the tears which she had denied herself all evening, since they had quarreled about the interview with The Rossi on deck, flowed. "You fool!" she murmured. "You adorable fool. How can you doubt—"

Linda didn't say any more. She merely looked down at him, and she knew by all the signs that a woman knows that he trusted her. But she was going to tell him now.

She looked up and saw the detective standing over her, but she didn't falter. "Yes, I knew Dutch Lenz. I worked for him at the Tip Top Club in New York."

For a moment he didn't know what didn't want you to know, Ken thought all I've kept from you."

"I don't want to know anything about your past," Ken said. "All I want to do is keep you safe—now!" She kissed him, still tearful, while the people looked on.

But the detective said, "I couldn't find Dutch Lenz below."

The blow on his head had stunned him. The ship's doctor was tending one of the desperately ill on board. Somebody cried out for ammonia, brandy—any stimulant. None of these was at hand, and Linda stood up, her face lined with distress. She faced Jane.

CRUISE TO NOWHERE

JANE WILSON feels her dreams have come true when she sails out on a three week ocean cruise accepted in payment for the salary due her when the magazine for which she worked as typist suspended publication.

On board the ship, she meets handsome DIRK STROM, expert ski jumper, as peerless as herself. The two are much attracted to each other. But a misunderstanding comes between them. Jane is flattered by the attentions of TINO ROSSI, opera singer, and Dirk becomes the frequent escort of NOVA LANE, famous actress and owner of the Kokinor diamond.

Others among the passengers are SNOWSHOES, a detective; MADAME DOREMUS, wealthy and eccentric; DIRK LENZ and NANA JACKSON, blackmailers; BEN MARTIN and LINDA BAYES, floor show entertainers. The ship's stewardess Nora Lane to turn the Kokinor diamond over to the purser. They go to her stateroom to get it and find NANA JACKSON, dead from a bullet wound. The diamond is missing.

Snowshoes takes charge of the investigation. Most of the passengers are not aware of the murder, though they know of the theft.

Leaving Nassau behind, a storm comes up that threatens to become a hurricane. Snowshoes and passengers to get their life belts. Madame Doremus tremors that Linda, her companion, is missing.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXII

THE steady roar of the big blow drowned the sound of every other thing except the pounding noise of the waves and of decks awash. The great giant shuddered and shook off the countless tons of water. People simply looked at one another and asked the awesome question, "What is going to happen now?"

Nora Lane took up the Punch and Judy show, and lured small children, eyes stark with terror, into play again. The orchestra in the ballroom played, trying to allay the fears. People stood around listening, trying to forget the shrieking elements outside. Ken Martin sang.

Down in front of the orchestra sat Linda Byles, the little dancer. As Ken sang of love, his tenor voice clear as a bell though he was choking with his real emotion—fear for Linda's safety.

Ken knew that the detective thought his girl was in the know on the murder of Nana Jackson. And even as he sang, his eyes watched the whole scene in the recreation rooms, fearful.

Something of Ken's anxiety conveyed itself to Jane, who was momentarily charmed by Ken's crooning for love.

Jane knew what Ken's fears were. She sat close to Linda, thinking it might help Ken to know she was watching Linda, too. Feeling these things intensely Jane thought she was witnessing a love which transcended all the petty avowals of affection one heard in the course of shipboard romance.

BUT then it happened before Jane's stricken eyes. There was a freshening of the roar outside and a roll of the boat as the waves pounded amidship. Ken was flung from the orchestra stand, and going down, his head hit a corner of the piano.

When Linda reached Ken his face was white and a thin trickle of blood coursed down the side of his head. She worked feverishly over him, calling out his name. "Ken! Ken! Speak to me, Oh, Ken, speak to me!"

AT SCOTT HOME

Mrs. G. R. Perkins, of Chicago, is visiting at the home of Mrs. G. W. and Mrs. G. R. Scott, 404 W. College. They have been ill recently but are improving.

L. E. Dillow of Bluffs was a caller in the city yesterday.
Mrs. Dave Holmer, of Roodhouse, shopped in the city yesterday.

when I followed him. Did Dutch write you that note, warning you not to talk?"

Linda sat up, her eyes revealing the terror she had experienced in her stateroom. She couldn't bring herself to talk about that. "I don't know," she said. "It may have been Dutch. I knew too much about him, but no more than you know. Since repeat it's blackmail—extortion. I can't connect him with the jewels."

Snowshoes rubbed the shiny bald spot on his head. He knew no more about any of the crimes than he had known at the start, and now the corpse had disappeared. Millie had disappeared with the Madame's jewel-box and was nowhere to be found. And Dutch Lenz had been swallowed up somewhere in the bowels of the big ship while Snowshoes followed on his trail.

Drivers Continue To Violate "Stop" Sign Law In City

86.4 Percent Of Drivers Going Onto Square Fail To Stop

Of the 44 automobiles that entered the Public Square from North and West Court streets between 1:45 and 2:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon, 86.4 percent of the drivers violated the "stop" law.

The Jacksonville Journal and Courier "Safety Man" who made the check was assisted in the check-up by a local citizen. The citizen made the decision whether the motorist had violated the law and the newspaperman compiled the figures.

During the check-up one Jacksonville auto driver violated the law three times.

While many of the motorists approached the corner with their cars under control, they failed to bring their cars to a full stop.

Of the six vehicles that made the boulevard stop, two were trucks and four passenger cars. The citizen who was assisting in the check stated that he doubted if a single motorist would have made the stop. If pedestrians had not been crossing the street and it was necessary to stop to keep from running over them.

The Journal and Courier "Safety Drive" is being conducted for the sole purpose of making automobile drivers and pedestrians more "safety conscious."

All streets entering the Public Square, with the exceptions of North and South Main are "Boulevard Stops." The sign "Stop" means just what it says. Motorists should bring their cars to a dead stop on entering the Public Square which is a "State Highway."

If all motorists would bring their cars to a stop before entering arterial highways many accidents would be avoided.

NORTONVILLE S. S. COMMUNITY CLUB

AT ROBINSON HOME

The Nortonville South Side community club met at the home of Mrs. George Robinson Friday afternoon with twenty members and ten guests present.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lawrence Seymour. During the business session, Mrs. Lionel Seymour was appointed chairman of the International Relations committee.

Final plans were made for the family banquet which will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall in Nortonville March 17.

Mrs. Nelson Cox presented an interesting paper, "The New Gold Rush." The roll call was a display of old gold jewelry and coins.

The club received a communication from Julia Norwood, director of modern science in New modern science institute at Toledo, Ohio, asking for an account of the club's recent program on "Coffee From Plantation to Cup." She also inclosed several written programs from the institution.

Mrs. Henry Whitlock was in charge of the social hour, with Mrs. Loyd Flynn and Miss Nell Robinson winning prizes. Dainty refreshments were served.

The guests were Mrs. G. L. Donlin, Mrs. E. L. Rogers, Mrs. Harrison Robinson, Mrs. Lloyd Flynn, Mrs. Carroll Robinson, Mrs. Clyde Oxley, Mrs. Robert Henry, Mrs. Ralph Friend, Mrs. John Jones.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Oxley.

ALDERMAN COMMENDS SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Need For Extreme Care In Driving Pointed Out By Ralph W. Green

Journal and Courier, Safety Contest Editor, Dear Sir:

Jacksonville and surrounding community must take cognizance of the mounting traffic "accidents." Police are powerless in most instances to prevent "accidents"—it is up to drivers and pedestrians alike to do their part in avoiding even the minor mishaps.

I am heartily in accord with the Journal and Courier Safety Campaign. Traffic violations, by both pedestrians and motorists, present one of the greatest problems faced by the police and fire departments, far greater than the prevention of fires and crime.

It seems strange to me that people who will submit to vaccinations, who will show the greatest care in preventing fires, and who will take other steps to prevent loss of money through illness, death, and other causes, at the same time will violate the practices of safe automobile operation.

Jacksonville is handicapped in the business district by having a number of narrow streets. The police and fire committees along with the highway department have been studying this problem for a long time and see only two possibilities of relieving the traffic problem. They are a regulation against parking on both sides of the narrow streets, or the establishment of one way traffic. Each solution has its drawbacks.

As chairman of the police and fire committees of the city council, I wish to take this opportunity to ask that the citizens of Jacksonville co-operate with the Journal and Courier and at the same time pledge the co-operation of these two departments.

Ralph W. Green, Alderman First Ward.

South Scott Roads Rapidly Improving

Highways Open Up For Auto Use; Other News Notes From Glasgow

Glasgow, March 7—The dirt roads in this section of Scott county and the northwest part of Greene, which have been impossible for auto traffic in many places since the recent thaw out, are rapidly getting back to normal.

The Glasgow-Patterson road and the Glasgow-Winchester (direct) road are now being travelled by cars, but two or three bad places still exist on the west road leading out of here toward the river. These places are expected to be made passable right away.

Attend Funeral Rites

Among those from out of town attending the funeral services of Mrs. James Joubert here Thursday were: Mrs. Clara Jones and daughter-in-law of Modesto, Beal Smith and wife of White Hall, Mrs. Muri Hanback and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Desherlia, Winchester, besides the more immediate relatives from Roodhouse, Jacksonville, Carrollton and Jerseyville.

Glasgow Personal

Mrs. Howard McCullough returned to her home in Oklahoma City, Okla., Friday after being here with her father, Edwin Blair for the past two weeks. The latter's condition has varied very little in the past few days.

Mrs. Sude Barnett has been ill at her home west of town the past several days, but her condition is reported as not dangerous.

J. A. Lettice, of Murrayville, was calling on his mother, Mrs. Belle Lettice, here Saturday morning.

Jeanette, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Herber, suffering with pneumonia, is slowly improving from her recent illness.

Chester Gouley is able to be out again after being confined to his home the past week by illness.

Mrs. William Hanback has gone to the home of her father, John Haney, south of Alsey, to stay with him for a few days.

Cordell Lettice, who is at the CCC Camp Plaza near Jerseyville, is home for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sanderson of Carrollton visited their son, Joe and family, here Friday afternoon.

Eugene Blair, teacher at Lovelace school, attended the Greene county Teachers' Institute in Carrollton on Thursday and Friday. From there he drove to Carlinville to spend the week-end with Forrest Newman, student at Blackburn College.

VISITS IN EVANSTON

Mrs. Tilman Scott is spending the week-end visiting in Evanston with her son, Randall, who is a student at Northwestern University, and with her cousin, Mrs. Ethel Clayd.

Jerry Flynn, Jr., of R. R. 2 was in the city yesterday.

Jacksonville H. S. Girl Debaters Win Tournament

Teams Of Local School Take First Place At MacMurray College

Jacksonville High school's girl debaters swept through the MacMurray College Invitational Tournament yesterday undefeated, thus dividing first place between the Crimson affirmative and negative teams. This victory eclipses outstanding performances in that meet for the past two years. J. H. S. having taken second and third prizes in 34 and 35.

The most brilliant bit of forensic work accomplished by the local girls yesterday was the defeat of the feminine representatives of DuQuoin, state debate champions at the present time. Mary Butler and Jane Dunlap, upholding the affirmative for Jacksonville, turned back the southern Illinois team in their first round debate at 10 o'clock. In the afternoon, these two went on to dispose of Macrom.

The Crimson negative, Barbara Butler and Betty Trable, also turned in an outstanding exhibition when they won over Lincoln. Lincoln was chosen as host for this year's tournament of the Illinois division of the National Forensic League. In their first round contest, Miss Trable and Miss Butler defeated the Macon affirmative.

The finals of the MacMurray meet was scheduled to be held between the two highest ranking teams. When the time came to check up on the day's records, it was found that, if plans were followed, the Jacksonville affirmative and negative would have to debate each other for the championship. This awkward situation was remedied by declaring J. H. S. champions, the honor being equally divided between the teams. Mary Butler, as the only senior member of the group, was awarded the prize scholarship at MacMurray. Miss Butler has served two years on the Crimson varsity and has established an enviable reputation in debate circles for her forensic ability.

Thus the Jacksonville High School debate team's tournament season was opened with a bang. Next week the Crimson arguers will work together again as a regular varsity, both boys and girls, in one of the fullest weekly schedules of the year. Tuesday morning they will give an exhibition in the David Prince assembly. Wednesday the negative will meet Pekin for a decision in the J. H. S. assembly, and Thursday, Coach Harold Gibson will take his debaters to Fulton, Mo. for two more tournaments.

MORGAN TOWNSEND ORGANIZATION TO HOLD MEET MONDAY

The Townsend organization of Morgan county will hold a meeting at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the court house, which will be open to all who care to attend. Music will be furnished by the Odd Fellows' quartet. The speaker will be Dr. H. Truman Gordon of Chicago, who is being brought to the city under the auspices of the Townsend national organization.

Dr. Gordon is a member of the National-Regional Speakers' Staff for the Townsend Recovery Plan. He is a man with a National reputation as a platform, chautauqua speaker. He has an experience of more than fifteen years as a successful social service worker and director of organized welfare work, in Minneapolis, Minn., in Tacoma, Wash., and in Chicago.

For more than twenty years Dr. Gordon has been a serious student of economics, the National Monetary system and the banking structure of the Nation. He contends that the Townsend Revolving Recovery Plan, the plan to revolve purchasing power in the hands of the American people, is the only plan ever offered to the Federal Government, by which Congress, "May go back all the way to the Constitution, and carry out one of its most important functions; that is, to regulate and control the circulation of money" in the United States. Dr. Gordon contends that the Townsend Plan is the paramount need of the United States today, and that the Townsend Movement is the greatest "mass-political movement of and by the people, that our country has ever witnessed in one hundred and fifty years."

Insurance Company Booster Club Gives Annual Banquet

Service Awards Are Presented At Meeting Held Here Saturday

The Boosters Club of American Bankers Insurance company held the 10th annual banquet and meeting in the Peacock Inn last evening. The president, C. Y. Rowe and the assistant secretary, A. L. Strandberg, were presented with the highest service awards, twenty-five year pins. The club now numbers more than 400 members who are wearers of the emblem denoting five or more years of service.

A program of entertainment immediately after the dinner was as follows:

Tap dance and son, "Treasure Island" Ruby Matthews, accompanied by Clemens Dirksen.

Songs, "Rhythm in My Nursery Rimes," and "On Revival Day," Dick Hopper, Dixon Benson and Pete Riggs.

Winnings Rawlings, accompanied by Marjorie Warlick, sang "With All My Heart," "Old Covered Bridges," and "When I Grow Too Old to Dream."

Judge H. F. Samuel presented an address on, "The Constitution." He maintained that the framers of that document were not ill advised, nor did they execute it in haste. They were a group of government scientists, whose equal the world has not before or since duplicated. He showed that they had studied forms of government that existed 2000 years before Christ.

Autocracies, pure democracies, and combinations, but it realized that in many cases men who are given some power come to want a great deal more.

The check and balance system of our government was described as a "wise idea" in these days when the democratic principles of government are being put to a severe test.

The speaker said that a great many persons today held that our system of change for laws was not rapid enough, but himself called such an impression, "a mistaken idea." The constitution is sufficiently flexible to produce reforms, but it also prevents hysterical alarmists from carrying out imprudent and unwise schemes.

He continued, "The bureaucratic government with which we are now living is only one step from anarchy. The more strength a bureau is given, the more it seeks—and demands. Our forefathers realized this thing. Those who would claim that the constitution is a child of the horse and buggy days and becoming obsolete are either lacking in knowledge or using this as an excuse for gaining more power."

C. Y. Rowe was in charge of presentation of emblems of service, and E. Johnson was toastmaster.

In addition to the 25 year awards of Mr. Strandberg and Mr. Rowe, the following were honored:

Twenty Years—Elmer E. Bavington, Fifteen Years—Hilda Perrings, Catherine Gustafson, and H. Paul Samuel.

Ten Years—John T. Crowcroft, Fern Davis and John P. Reilly.

Five Years—W. G. Boedeker, Nellie George, George Bundren, H. Roy Carroll, Thelma Carpenter, Frank DeSimone, James Eagan, Margaret Mann, Fred Peyton, Eugene Reilly, Dean L. Smith, Mildred Spencer, Helen Steer, Tillie Wozniak, F. K. Bote and Charles Ashbaker.

Officers of the club are: President, Margaret Cunningham; vice president, Margaret Massey; treasurer, Mildred Spencer and secretary, Carrie Piper. Committee chairman for the meeting last night were, banquet, Jeanette Withie; decorating, Margaret Stubbfield; dining room, Opal Dobson, kitchen, Louis Strandberg; entertainment, E. E. Johnson.

During the afternoon the following program was given:

Song—Love's Old Sweet Song, Lord's Prayer, Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, Roll Call—Helpful Hints to Housecleaning.

Business period in charge of the president, Mrs. Susan Carlson.

An interesting discussion on future plans for the club was then held by the members.

Closing song—Blest Be the Tie that binds.

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed during which time a delightful refreshment course was served by the hostesses.

WALLA WALLA SETS UNIQUE CRIME MARK

No Deaths From Automobile Accidents, Murder In Last Year

STATE OF WASHINGTON, CITY OF WALLA WALLA, March 3, 1936.

Mr. Alfred Leeper, 552 Hardin Avenue, Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Sir:

Your letter with reference to the record Walla Walla made last year on having no deaths from accidents, no murders or manslaughter cases received and in reply will say that this is due to a good many different causes; one of which is the enforcement of our traffic laws, and another is the character of our people.

As you have perhaps heard, Walla Walla is an educational center and most of our citizens are law abiding. Of course, luck enters into the record to a large extent, and we only hope that this luck will hold.

We will double our precautions and be firmer on traffic violations than formerly to try and keep up our good record.

Our traffic laws are about the same as that of other cities, but we are particularly severe on hit-and-run and drunken driving.

Sincerely Yours,
Dorsey M. Hill, Mayor.

Charles M. Hagen, Republican candidate for State Central Committee, was a visitor in the city yesterday meeting voters of Morgan county. Hagen is state's attorney of Calhoun county, the first Republican elected to this office. He was elected in 1932, at a time when Democrats were swept into office by overwhelming majorities.

Hagen is the first candidate to announce himself for this office, is making a tour-campaign in the ten counties of the 20th Congressional district and reports that he has been cordially received by voters who favor his election. Hagen led the fight for the publication of Calhoun county, normally a Democratic county, and the result has been that several Republicans have been placed in county offices in this county in the southern part of the district.

Hagen is known here particularly in ex-service men circles because of his splendid war record. He was a member of the U. S. Marine corps which saw much service during the World War, and with the ending of the conflict was awarded several medals for extreme bravery under fire. He gained this recognition at a tremendous sacrifice however, as he lost his right arm in one of the battles in which he was engaged.

Hagen is making the race for committee of the 20th district on the pledge that he will work to return the Republican party to power in the offices that have been lost to the Democrats during the past few years.

Drivers Continue To Violate "Stop" Sign Law In City

86.4 Percent Of Drivers Going Onto Square Fail To Stop

Of the 44 automobiles that entered the Public Square

of the 44 automobiles that entered the Public Square from North and West Court streets between 1:45 and 2:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon, 86.4 of the drivers violated the "Boulevard Stop" law.

The Jacksonville Journal and Courier "Safety Man" who made the check was assisted in the check-up by a local citizen. The citizen made the decision whether the motorist had violated the law and the newspaperman compiled the figures.

During the check-up one Jacksonville auto driver violated the law three times.

While many of the motorists approached the corner with their cars under control, they failed to bring their cars to a full stop.

Of the six vehicles that made the boulevard stop, two were trucks and four passenger cars. The citizen who was assisting in the check stated that he doubted if a single motorist would have been crossing the street and it was necessary to stop to keep from running over them.

The Journal and Courier "Safety Drive" is being conducted for the sole purpose of making automobile drivers and pedestrians more "safety-conscious."

All streets entering the Public Square, with the exceptions of North and South Main, are "Boulevard Stops." The sign "Stop" means just what it says. Motorists should bring their cars to a dead stop on entering the Public Square which is a "State Highway."

If all motorists would bring their car to a stop before entering arterial highways many accidents would be avoided.

ALDERMAN COMMENDS SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Need For Extreme Care In Driving Pointed Out By Ralph W. Green

Journal and Courier, Safety Contest Editor, Dear Sir:

Jacksonville and surrounding community must take cognizance of the mounting traffic "accidents." Police are powerless in most instances to prevent "Accidents"—it is up to drivers and pedestrians alike to do their part in avoiding even the minor mishaps.

I am heartily in accord with the Journal and Courier Safety Campaign. Traffic violations, by both pedestrians and motorists, present one of the greatest problems faced by the police and fire departments, far greater than the prevention of fires and crime.

It seems strange to me that people who will submit to vaccinations, who will show the greatest care in preventing fires, and who will take other steps to prevent loss of money through illness, death and other causes, at the same time will violate the practices of safe automobile operation.

Jacksonville is handicapped in the business district by having a number of narrow streets. The police and fire departments along with the highway department have been studying this problem for a long time and see only two possibilities of relieving the traffic problem. They are a regulation against parking on both sides of the narrow streets, or the establishment of one way traffic. Each solution has its drawbacks.

As chairman of the police and fire committees of the city council, I wish to take this opportunity to ask that the citizens of Jacksonville co-operate with the Journal and Courier, and at the same time pledge the co-operation of these two departments.

Ralph W. Green, Alderman First Ward.

Jacksonville H. S. Girl Debaters Win Tournament

Teams Of Local School Take First Place At MacMurray College

Jacksonville High school's girl debaters swept through the MacMurray College Invitational Tournament yesterday undefeated, thus dividing first place between the Crimmon affirmative and negative teams. This victory eclipses outstanding performances in that meet for the past two years, J. H. S. having taken second and third prizes in '34 and '35.

The most brilliant bit of forensic work accomplished by the local girls yesterday was the defeat of the feminine representatives of DuQuoin, state debate champions at the present time. Mary Butler and Jane Dunlap, upholding the affirmative for Jacksonville, turned back the southern Illinois team in their first round debate at 10 o'clock. In the afternoon, these two went on to dispose of Mac.

The Crimmon negative, Barbara Butler and Betty Traube, also turned in an outstanding exhibition when they won over Lincoln. Lincoln has been chosen as host for this year's tournament of the Illinois division of the National Forensic League. In their first round contest, Miss Traube and Miss Butler defeated the Macon affirmative.

The finals of the MacMurray meet was scheduled to be held between the two highest ranking teams. When the time came to check up on the day's records, it was found that, if plans were followed, the Jacksonville affirmative and negative would have to debate each other for the championship. This awkward situation was remedied by declaring J. H. S. champions, the honor being equally divided between the teams. Mary Butler, as the only senior member of the group, was awarded the prize scholarship at MacMurray. Miss Butler has served two years on the Crimmon varsity and has established an enviable reputation in debate circles for her forensic ability.

Thus the Jacksonville High School debate team's tournament season was opened with a bang. Next week the Crimmon arguers will work together again as a regular varsity both boys and girls. In one of the fullest weekly schedules of the year, Tuesday morning they will give an exhibition in the David Prince assembly. Wednesday the negative will meet Pekin for a decision in the J. H. S. assembly, and Thursday, Coach Harold Gibson will take his debaters to Fulton, Mo. for two more tournaments.

MORGAN TOWNSEND ORGANIZATION TO HOLD MEET MONDAY

The Townsend organization of Morgan county will hold a meeting at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening at the court house, which will be open to all who wish to attend. Music will be furnished by the Odd Fellows' quartet. The speaker will be Dr. H. Truman Gordon of Chicago, who is being brought to the city under the auspices of the Townsend national organization.

Dr. Gordon is a member of the National-Regional Speakers' Staff for the Townsend Recovery Plan. He is a man with a National reputation as a platform, chautauqua speaker. He has an experience of more than fifteen years as a successful social service worker and director of organized welfare work in Minneapolis, Minn., in Tacoma, Wash., and in Chicago.

For more than twenty years Dr. Gordon has been a serious student of economics; the National Monetary system and the banking structure of the Nation. He contends that the Townsend Revolving Recovery Plan, the plan to revolve purchasing power in the hands of the American people, is the only plan ever offered to the Federal Government, by which Congress, "May go back all the way to the Constitution and carry out one of its most important functions; that is, to regulate and control the circulation of money" in the United States. Dr. Gordon contends that the Townsend Plan is the paramount need of the United States today, and that the Townsend Movement is the greatest "mass-political movement of and by the people, that our country has ever witnessed in one hundred and fifty years."

Checker Club To Open Tourney In City Monday Night

Eighteen Players To Take Part In Play For Places In County Contests

The Jacksonville Checker club will open its Morgan county tournament at City Hall, Monday night at 7:30 o'clock with eighteen players at the boards.

Frank Bracewell, secretary of the club announced last night that fourteen Jacksonville men had entered the tournament, with two from Moredosia and one each from Nortonville and Pisgah. There is a possibility that two additional entries from Moredosia will be received Monday. Entries can be made Monday night before play starts. After play gets underway no entries will be received.

Paul Browning who won the city tournament has entered the county tourney.

The tournament is being held to select two players to enter the four county tournament which will be held early in April.

Mr. Bracewell announced last night that games will be played on Monday and Wednesday nights each week until the tournament has been completed. He also stated that pairings will be announced Monday night after players draw their numbers.

Louis Biggs is president of the club. P. G. Stein, vice-president and Mr. Bracewell, secretary. The officers of the club will manage the tournament. The following players have entered the tournament:

Paul Browning, Louis Biggs, J. W. Bowen, Frank Bracewell, Donald Chapman, Lincoln Cowdin, John Early, E. Morris, Ernest May, C. Noudett, R. E. Pierce, P. G. Stein, Marian Woods and Judge Wm. E. Thomson, all of Jacksonville; A. B. Chrisman and Joe Irving of Moredosia; George Cox of Nortonville; and Earl Traver, Pisgah.

The public is invited to witness the play.

Insurance Company Booster Club Gives Annual Banquet

Service Awards Are Presented At Meeting Held Here Saturday

The Boosters Club of American Bankers Insurance company held the 10th annual banquet and meeting in the Peacock Inn last evening. The president, C. Y. Rowe and the assistant secretary, A. L. Strandberg, were presented with the highest service awards, twenty-five year pins.

The club now numbers more than 400 members who are wearers of the emblem denoting five or more years of service.

A program of entertainment immediately after the dinner was as follows:

Tap dance and song, "Treasure Island" Ruby Matthews, accompanied by Clemens Dirksen.

Songs, "Rhythm in My Nursery Rimes," and "On Revival Day," Dick Hopper, Dixon Benson and Pete Riggs. Winona Rawlings, accompanied by Marjorie Warlick, sang, "With All My Heart," "Old Covered Bridge," and "When I Grow Too Old to Dream."

Judge H. P. Samuel then presented an address on, "The Constitution." He maintained that the framers of that document were not ill advised, nor did they execute it in haste. They were a group of government scientists, whose equal the world has not before or since duplicated. He showed that they had studied forms of government that existed 2000 years before Christ, autocracies, pure democracies and combinations, and realized that in many cases men who are given some power come to want a great deal more.

The check and balance system of our government was described as a "wise idea" in these days when the democratic principles of government are being put to a severe test.

The speaker said that a great many persons today held that our system of change for laws was not rapid enough, but himself called such an impression, "a mistaken idea." The constitution is sufficiently flexible to produce reform, but it also prevents hysterical alarmists from carrying out imprudent and unwise schemes.

He continued, "The bureaucratic government with which we are now living is only one step from autocracy. The more strength a bureau is given, the more it seeks—and demands. Our forefathers realized this thing. Those who would claim that the constitution is a child of the horse and buggy days and becoming obsolete are either lacking in knowledge or using this as an excuse for gaining more power."

C. Y. Rowe was in charge of presentation of emblems of service, and E. E. Johnson was toastmaster.

In addition to the 25 year awards of Mr. Strandberg and Mr. Rowe, the following were honored:

Twenty Years—Elmer E. Bavington, Fifteen Years—Hilda Perrings, Catherine Gustafson, and H. Paul Samuel.

Ten years—John T. Crowcroft, Fern Davis and John P. Reilly.
Five years—W. G. Boedeker, Nellie Gregory, George Bunden, H. Roy Carroll, Thelma Carpenter, Frank DeSimone, James Eagan, Margaret Massey, Fred Peyton, Eugene Reilly, Dean L. Smith, Mildred Spencer, Helen Steer, Tillie Wozniak, P. K. Bote and Charles Ashbaker.

Officers of the club are: President, Margaret Cunningham; vice president, Margaret Massey; treasurer, Mildred Spencer and secretary, Carrie Piper. Committee chairman for the meeting last night were, banquet, Jeanette Withee; decorating, Margaret Stubbfield; dining room, Opal Dobson, kitchen, Louis Strandberg; entertainment, E. E. Johnson.

AUTOMOBILE IS STOLEN LAST NIGHT

Claude Newby, 333 Lurton street, reported to police last night that his 1928 red Chevrolet coupe, with disc wheels, had been stolen from its parking place on North Main street just off the Public Square.

The car carried Illinois 1936 License Plates No. 495-092.

Mr. Newby parked the car about 8:30 o'clock and when he returned at 11:30 p. m. it was missing.

Police started a search for the missing automobile.

Mrs. Regina Nelson of Mt. Sterling was a shopper in the city yesterday afternoon.

WALLA WALLA SETS UNIQUE CRIME MARK

No Deaths From Automobile Accidents, Murder In Last Year

STATE OF WASHINGTON, CITY OF WALLA WALLA, March 3, 1936.

Mr. Alfred Leeper, 552 Hardin Avenue, Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Sir: Your letter with reference to the record Walla Walla made last year on having no deaths from accidents, no murders or manslaughter cases received and in reply will say that this is due to a good many different causes, one of which is the enforcement of our traffic laws, and another is the character of our people.

As you have perhaps heard, Walla Walla is an educational center and most of our citizens are law abiding. Of course, luck enters into the record to a large extent, and we only hope that this luck will hold.

We will double our precautions and be firmer on traffic violators than formerly to try and keep up our good record.

Our traffic laws are about the same as that of other cities, but we are particularly severe on hit-and-run and drunken driving.

Sincerely Yours, Dorsey M. Hill, Mayor.

Charles M. Hagen Seeks District Post

Calhoun State's Attorney In Race For Republican Committeeman

Charles M. Hagen, Republican candidate for State Central Committeeman, was a visitor in the city yesterday meeting voters of Morgan county.

Hagen is state's attorney of Calhoun county, the first Republican elected to this office. He was elected in 1932, at a time when Democrats were swept into office by overwhelming majorities.

Hagen, the first candidate to announce himself for this office, is making a tour campaign in the ten counties of the 20th Congressional district and reports that he has been cordially received by voters who favor his election.

Hagen has led the fight for Republicans in Calhoun county, normally a Democratic county, and the result has been that several Republicans have been placed in county offices in this county in the southern part of the district.

Hagen is known here particularly in ex-service men circles because of his splendid war record. He was a member of the U. S. Marine corps which saw much service during the World War, and with the ending of this conflict was awarded several medals for extreme bravery under fire. He gained this recognition at a tremendous sacrifice however, as he lost his right arm in one of the battles in which he was engaged.

Hagen is making the race for committeeman of the 20th district on the pledge that he will work to return the Republican party to power in the offices that have been lost to the Democrats during the past few years.

MURRAYVILLE CLUB MEMBERS GUESTS AT BEADLES HOME

Murrayville, March 7.—Mrs. T. G. Beadles was hostess Friday afternoon to the members of the past Noble Grand club of Murrayville Rebekah lodge, Number 76. Ten members and one guest, Mrs. J. E. Symonds were present.

During the afternoon the following program was given:

Song—Love's Old Sweet Song, Lord's Prayer.

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

Roll Call—Helpful Hints to Housecleaning.

Business period in charge of the president, Mrs. Susan Carlson.

An interesting discussion on future plans for the club was then held by the members.

Closing song—Blest Be the Tie that binds.

Following the program a social hour was enjoyed during which time a delightful refreshment course was served by the hostess.
